Fall Sports

Junior Cordell Snyder paces himself with steady breaths during a race. This was Snyder's third year running cross country for the Marksmen.

Senior Kelly Hess focuses on putting the golf ball towards the hole while sophomore Amber Fentress patiently waits for her turn.

The first football players run onto the field after emerging from the dungeon. The Marksmen finished their season with a 3-8 record.

Freshman Hunter Sandage, juniors Justin C. Peter and Dex Kleeman, and senior A.J. Flynn warm up prior to the game. This was the soccer team's second year competing with other teams in our area.

Being a new student at Tell City High School, football was a big opportunity to meet new people and to be involved in school activities."

Justin Hagan, Sophomore

I'm glad that I got to be part of the high school football team this year and I'm looking forward to next year even more."

Jared Balle, Freshman

I enjoyed this soccer season because it was really fun. I am very proud of my team for working together and also for winning our last tourney."

Allison Scheer, Sophomore

Senior band and color guard members pose for a picture after winning another competition. The band's show was named "Triple Feature" and it included music from Batman, Titanic, and Robin Hood.

The junior varsity and varsity volleyball teams get revved up before the game starts. Following tradition, the Lady Marksmen did the same cheer before each game began.

iBoomBoomPow

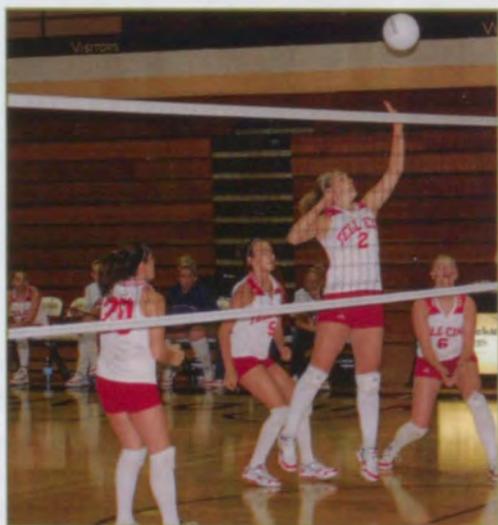

Volleyball

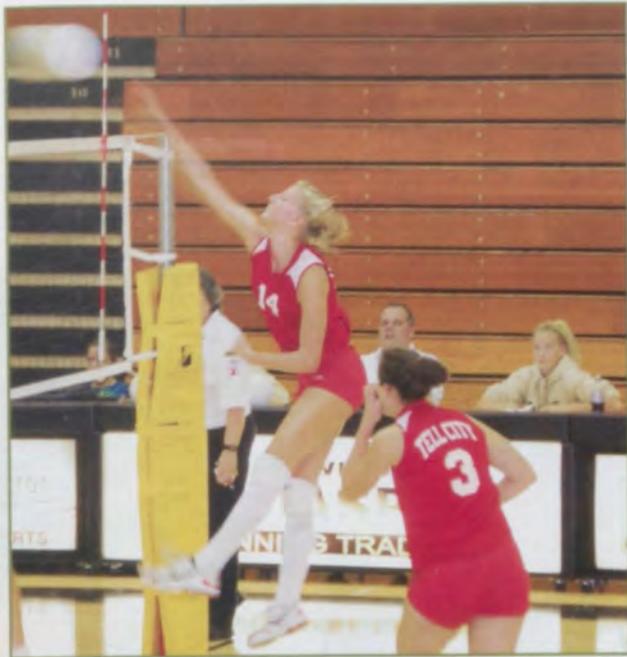

The Lady Marksmen take a moment of silence in memory of the late Coach Beard.

Freshman Stori Beard goes up to the net to spike the ball as her teammates prepare for the ball's return.

Marksmen

The Lady Marksmen ended their volleyball season with a 12-17 record. Senior Elizabeth Kohnert made the All-PAC team. The team considered their victory at the Corydon Tournament their greatest success this year. The Lady Marksmen went undefeated throughout the tournament.

Senior Elizabeth Kohnert spikes the ball from the weak side. Kohnert led in kills this season.

Freshman varsity team members Mackenzie Weyer and McKenzie Hayes go up to block a spike from Paoli.

Freshman Charissa Lahee hopes to serve up an ace against Jasper.

Seniors Elizabeth Kohnert, Leslie Poole, and Jamie Brinksneider smile for a picture during senior night. The seniors played volleyball all four years of high school.

Girls' XC

The cross country team poses for a picture after tying for second place in the Clarksville Hokum Karem.

Marksman
 The Lady Marksmen haven't had the most successful season in their history, but the girls picked up momentum toward the season's close. The girls overcame all doubts with a 4th place sectional finish. The team fell short of advancing by one point, but sophomore Sarah Goffinet continued as an individual to run at semi-state.

LOOKING BACK

Favorite 2009 Season Memory

"My favorite part of the season this year was cross country camp in West Virginia. Every year, we go whitewater rafting and take the time to bond as a team."

Brittany Waninger, Senior

"My favorite memory cannot be limited to one, as every day with the team is amazing. Our team is so close, and we are all great friends and teammates."

Mariah Nic, Senior

Senior Brittany Waninger paces herself while focusing on her goal.

Junior Andyn Rowe gives everything she has for an impressive finish to a strong race.

Freshman Hanna Goffinet stays on her opponent's shoulder. Goffinet improved greatly from the beginning of the season, securing a position of third runner on the team. She has run for four years now and was the only freshman runner on the team this year.

iStandAlone

Boys' XC

Darian Allen and David McDaniel push themselves as the finish line comes into sight.

Marksmen

The boys' cross country season ended at regional, where they placed 7th. The Marksmen needed to place in the top five to qualify for semi-state; however, junior Zach Wilson qualified for semi-state as an individual. Overall, it was a successful season. The team improved a lot throughout the season as they started pulling together.

Juniors Justin T. Peter and J.D. Bryant race each other to reach the finish line.

Junior Greg Clayton runs down the hill to catch an opponent from Crawford County.

Senior Nick Bower strives for the finish line. Bower has been a member of the cross country team all four years of high school.

Sophomore Devin McDaniel passes an opponent from Daviess County.

Football

The varsity team huddles together to get pumped up for the game. The Marksmen did this prior to every kickoff.

Seniors Dylan Froehlich and Matt Leistner and sophomore Brad Leibering make a strong block against their opponent.

Senior Ty DuPont gets tackled by the North Posey Vikings while carrying the ball down the field.

Marksmen

This year's football team consisted of nine seniors. The team worked together to accomplish their goals. The Marksmen had a rough season, but they showed the school what Tell City pride meant. The varsity team beat Crawford County in the first round of sectional.

Junior Trent Gunn fights off a Pike Central defender as he tries to gain yardage.

Junior quarterback Nick Kleaving passes the ball to senior fullback Kyle Osborne. Kleaving has been the varsity quarterback for two years.

The varsity football team lines up to meet the opposing players.

Senior Wes Hinton strives to make a Marksmen field goal.

Junior Dillon Hedinger blocks for senior Wes Hinton. Hedinger played strong safety.

Football Homecoming

Senior Nick Hawkins gets help putting on his carnation from his mom. This was Nick's first time nominated for the Homecoming Court.

Senior representatives Mariah Nix and Cody Nash pose for pictures in the Bryan Taylor Sports Arena. This was Cody's second time nominated as a Homecoming Court representative.

King Dylan Froehlich and queen Chelsea Hay smile for pictures after being crowned.

Marksmen

Tell City's Homecoming Ceremony started at 7 o'clock on October 2 at Tell City Legion Field. Senior representatives Dylan Froehlich and Chelsea Hay were named king and queen. After the game, the student body enjoyed the "Rave." The "Rave" was the 2009 homecoming dance held in the Auxillary Gym.

LOOKING BACK

How did it feel to be in the homecoming court?

"I was honored to be nominated as a senior representative on the Homecoming Court. It's something that I've always wanted to do."

Mariah Alvey, Senior

"I felt really excited when I saw my name on the homecoming ballot. My biggest fear was falling because I'm a little clumsy."

Kendall Bennett, Freshman

Junior representatives Christoph Drexler and Samantha Zellers take their position during the football homecoming ceremony. Christoph was an exchange student from Munich, Germany. Samantha said she was very surprised to be nominated as the junior representative.

Sophomore representatives Trent Nelson and Hana Reed approach their designated area on the field.

King candidate Ty DuPont escorts queen candidate Bethany Peter through the arch.

Band

Awaiting competition results are senior Tyler Hamilton, junior Laura Denoncour and senior Jennifer Niswonger.

Junior Brooke Birchler focuses to play "The Star Spangled Banner" on her clarinet.

Senior Lauren Coyle plays her trumpet upright toward the crowd.

Marksmen

Lights! Camera! Action! This is the feel that the Marching Marksmen's show gave off this year. "I would do it all again in a heartbeat," sophomore Chelsea Boyer said. "The band is a family and even though it's a lot of hard work, it's definitely rewarding in the end." The band's new drum major this year was Laura Denoncour.

Holding his saxophone in place, freshman Jalen Harris plays all the right notes.

Seniors Andrew Williams and Nick Hawkins warm up with freshman Will Roberts.

Senior Gwen Holman practices her salute for the award ceremony. Holman has been a member of the color guard for four years and hopes that the guard will continue to grow with future members.

iSwingForBirdies

Girls' Golf

Junior C.J. Fentress drives the ball on hole one. This was her third year being a member of the golf team.

Sophomore Amber Fentress sets up for a short putt on the last hole.

Senior Kelly Hess watches her golf ball as it lands on the green. Hess was the only senior on the team.

Marksmen

The girls' golf season went well this year. There were only four girls on the team, so all of them had to try their hardest at every practice and golf match. The girls started out optimistically, defeating Crawford County. They had fun this season and participated in PAC and sectional.

Sophomore Jessica Ballman lines up before she putts. Ballman played number 2 this year.

Junior C.J. Fentress concentrates while she is in her back swing.

Sophomore Amber Fentress watches as her ball flies through the air. Fentress golfed at sectional and PAC.

Follow Through

Boys' Tennis

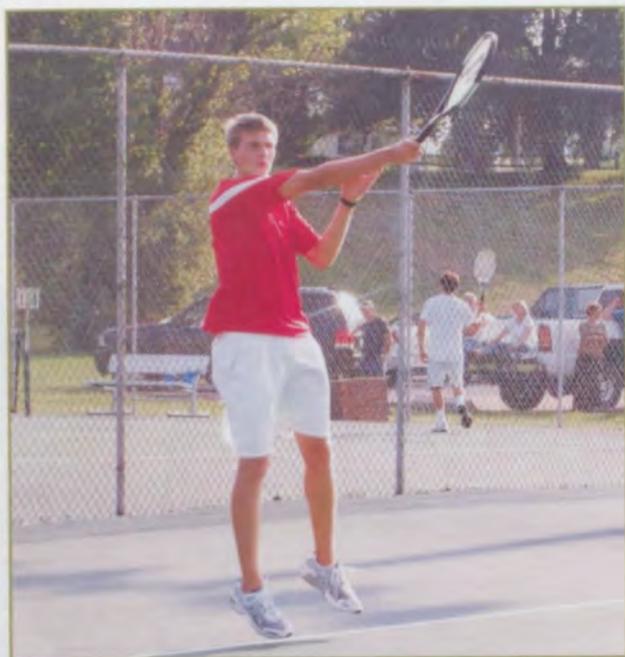

Freshman Anjan Kashyab eyes the ball while serving to his competitor.

Senior Nathan Ramsey follows through on his forehand return. This was his first year playing tennis.

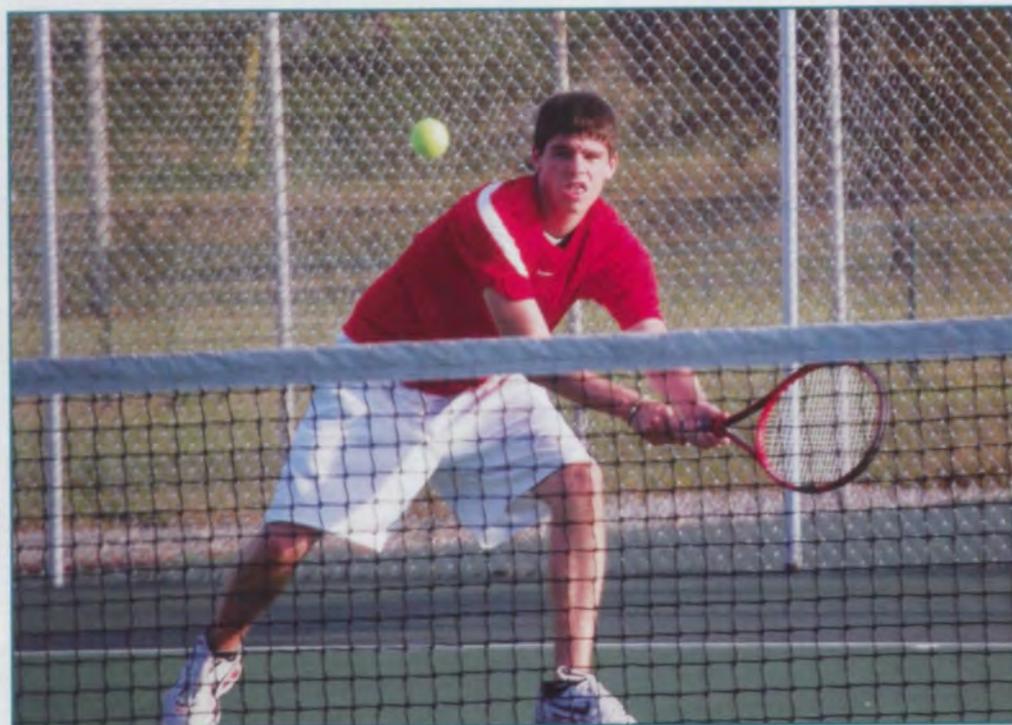

Senior Trent Wheatley returns a shot to his opponent with a strong forehand.

Marksmen

The tennis team had several new members this year. The team improved greatly over the course of the season. Anjan Kashyab led the team at number 1 singles, earning an all-conference title and advancing in sectionals individually. Overall, Coach Weyer was happy with this season's final results.

Junior Greg Hollinden lunges to return a serve from his opponent.

Junior Michael Richmer moves his feet into position to return his opponent's shot. This was his second year on the tennis team, he played number 2 doubles.

Coach Weyer encourages senior Nathan Ramsey in between sets.

Senior Patrick Hagedorn focuses on aching his opponent. He played number 2 doubles.

iGiveNoMercy

Soccer

Senior Alex Cole blocks a kick from the opposing team with the help of his teammates.

Junior Logan Bolin boots the ball up field. Bolin played as a defender on the team.

Freshman Kierre Hillenbrand steals the ball away from the opposing team.

Junior Taylor LaGrange focuses on kicking the ball across the field.

Marksmen

Tell City High School welcomed a soccer team for the second year. The team finished their season with a winning record of 7-4 and won the North Posey Invitational. The soccer team was named the Scholar Athletic Team for the fall season by having the best overall GPA.

Junior Justin C. Peter, number eleven, slide tackles to gain control of the ball.

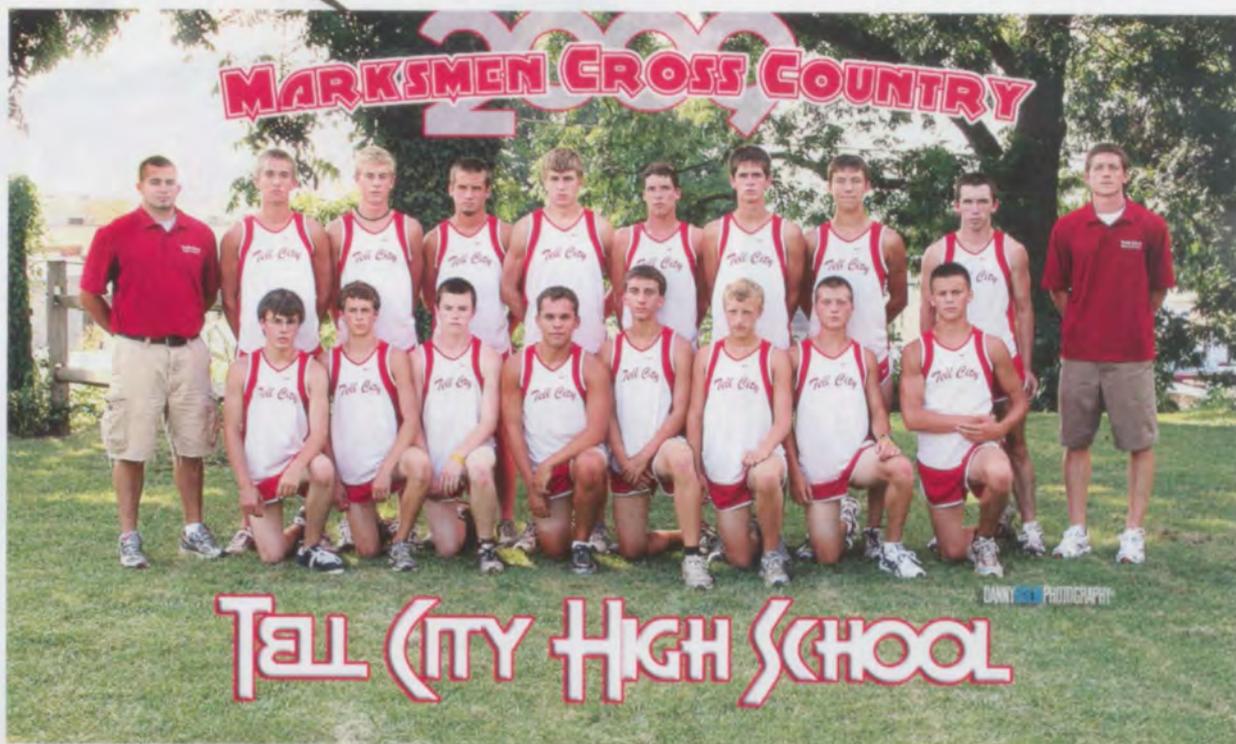

Senior A.J. Flynn, number nine, races his opponent to retrieve the ball.

Freshman goalie Casey May sends the ball back up the field after blocking the ball from going into the goal.

Junior Dex Kleeman heads the ball over a Forest Park defender.

The Best Part About My Sport

"The reason I manage the girls' cross country team is solely for the team. You won't find too many teams that get along as well as we do. With us it's not just about the running; it's about the team and friendships."

Katie Elder, Junior

"The guys were really fun to work with. I managed the football team because the guys were working too hard and were too busy to have to drag things out on the field and to fill water bottles."

Kyra Howe, Sophomore

"Being on the tennis team was pretty fun. We played hard and did our best, but we also had a lot of fun in the process. Tennis is a hard sport to play, but not when you have great teammates like mine."

Jacob Miller, Sophomore

Academics

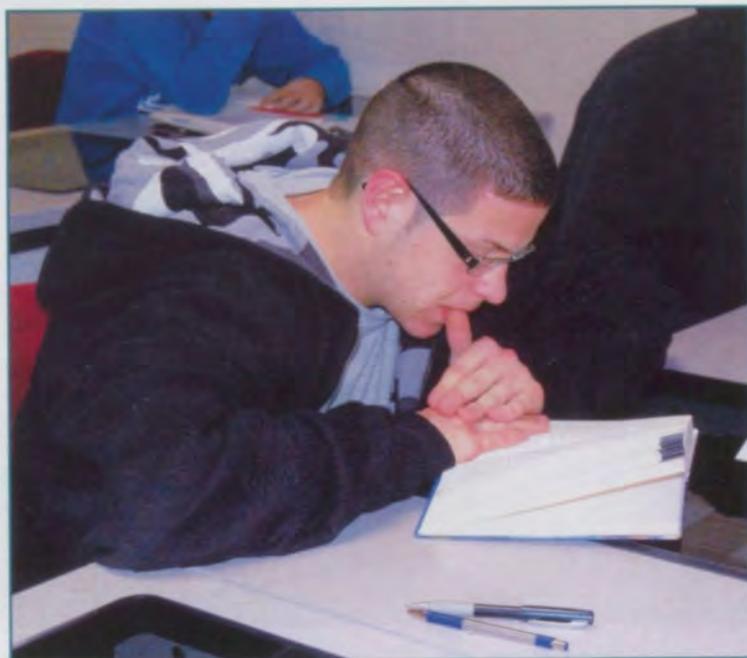

Senior Kevin Kanneberg does a wheel attempt to make a bowl in ceramics class. Kevin said, "Mrs. Goodrich was very good about helping us with the difficult steps in making projects."

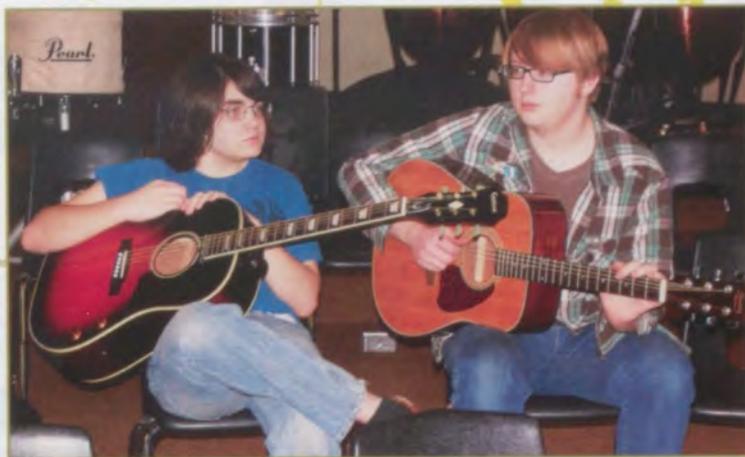

Junior Vivian Clarke sorts through a stack of pictures for the TCHS Photobook in her first period Commercial Art and Graphic Design class. This was the first year the class was offered at TCHS.

Juniors Cortni Strobel and Samantha Zellers work on their project in Mr. Kreilein's chemistry class. The two of them were lab partners in many of the chemistry experiments this year.

Junior Joey Coyle reads his Accelerated Reader book during Mr. Robinson's first period English 11 class. All students work to meet their individual point goals.

Seniors Andrew Estes and Sam Snyder sit next to each other in Mr. Reasoner's first period guitar class. Andrew said, "My favorite memory in this class was when Mr. Reasoner showed me how to play 'Chelsea Morning' by Joni Mitchell."

FAVORITE DAY OF THE SCHOOL YEAR!

"My favorite day of the school year is Spring Fling because it's fun and you have a good time with friends and classmates."

Samantha Wichner, Sophomore

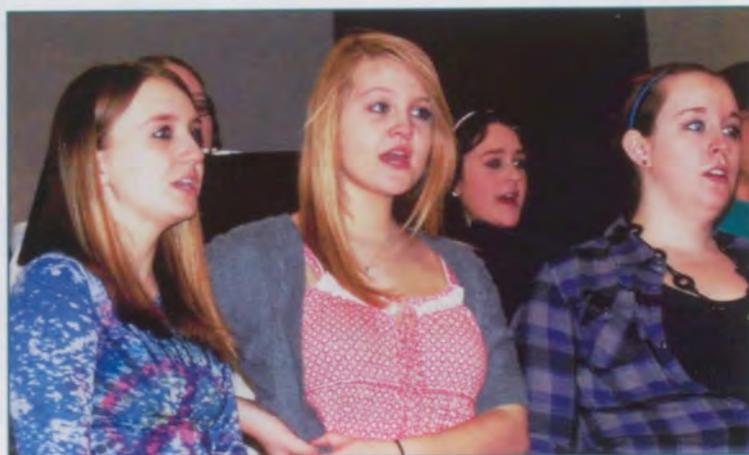

"My favorite day of the school year would be any day during Spring Break because it's always a lot of fun."

Jordan Kozum, Junior

"My favorite day of the school year is Spring Fling because it is carefree, fun, and you're with your friends all day long."

Ashley Wawinger, Senior

Freshmen Emily Kleeman and Kendall Bennett and senior Courtney VanConey sing during Mr. Reasoner's fourth period choir class.

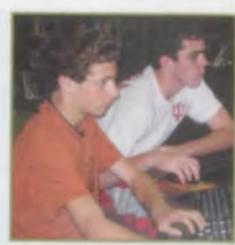

Tell City High School is proud to offer many types of classes to its students. We are one of the few high schools locally that also offers college credit through dual credit courses. A graduate could receive up to 53 college hours through the dual credit program.

Junior Erika Hauenstein and senior Nick Bower drop an egg from the bleachers. The egg was protected by a project they made in physics class.

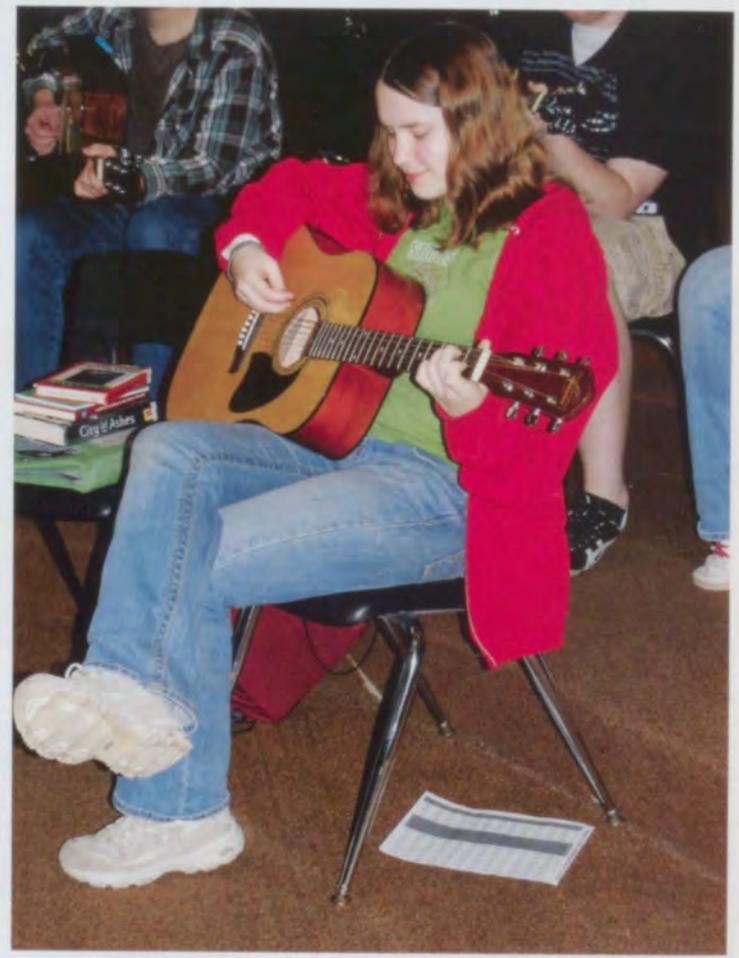

Sophomores Jamie Holman and Jill Lackore present their poster in Spanish class.

Sophomores Devin McDaniel and Dayne Seibert play on the computers during the World Language Game Night.

Senior Matt Kaufman removes the lugnuts from a tire in auto mechanics class. The class worked on staff and student vehicles for a small fee.

SMART MOVE!

What do you enjoy most about your classes?

The teachers work with you and give you second chances to turn in your work.

Brittany Snyder, Sophomore

I enjoy our English department and the things that we learn and study in there.

Trevor Fisher, Senior

I like when we have "free days," when we go to the library, and of course when the bell rings.

Brooke Smith, Junior

What is your favorite thing to do after school?

My favorite thing to do after school is to go in my room and blast my favorite music. I also like to go fishing. Either activity helps me relax.

Felicia Gray, Freshman

Junior Laura Denoncour, senior Tyler Hamilton, sophomore Robin Scarpa, and senior Jerry Ammon perform a scene in the spring play Jenny Kissed Me.

Junior Alyson Goffinet lights her candle as she is inducted into the National Honor Society by Mr. Stewart.

Seniors Morgan Rainey and Morgan Dauby watch Mr. Kreilein as he shows them how to place the filter paper inside of the tunnel. The Morgans were lab partners all year long and always signed their labs as Morgan squared.

Winter Sports

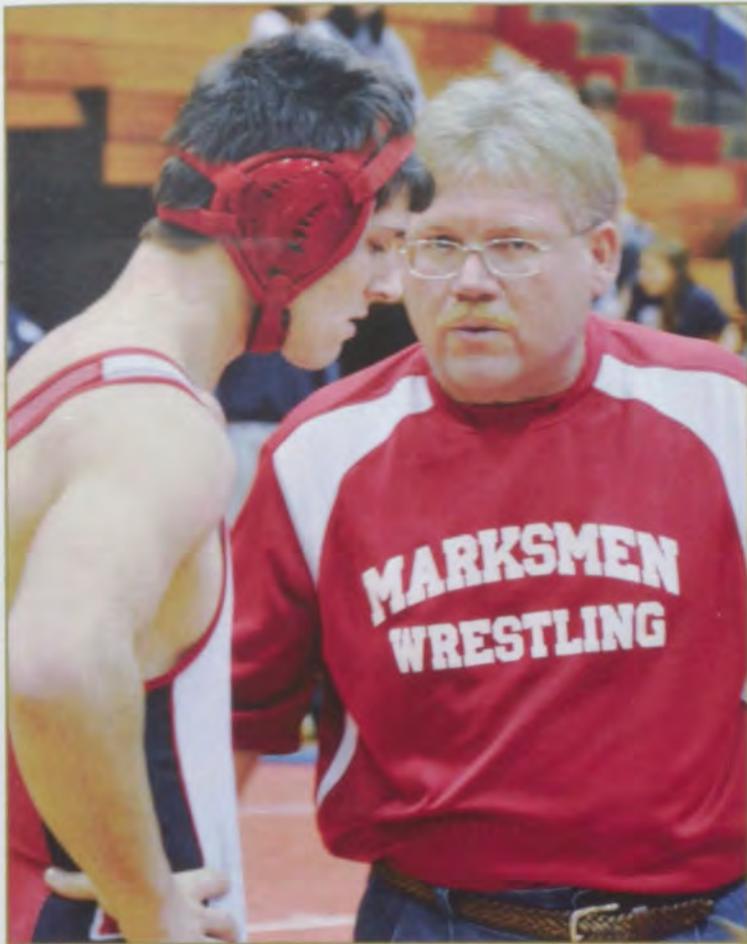

Juniors Taylor Maddie, David McDaniel, Jarrod Clayton and Justin T. Peter pose for a picture after finishing third place in the 200 medley relay race.

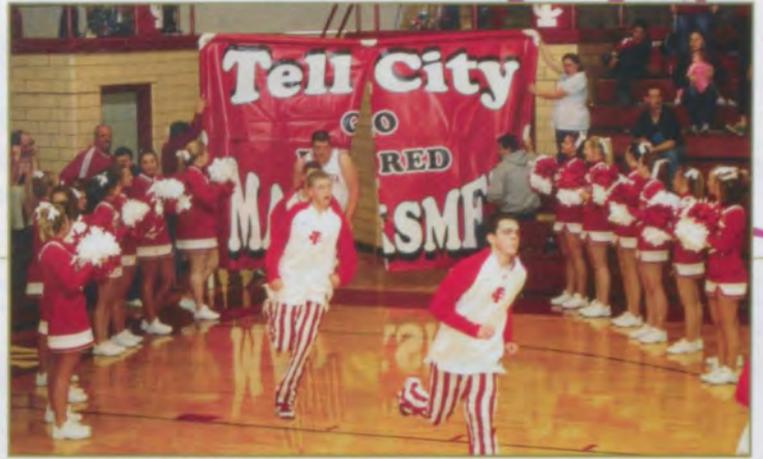

After the third quarter of every game, the varsity cheerleaders dance in the sacks that spell out Marksmen to the beat of the pep band's drums.

Senior Pep Club President Nick Bower and senior Class President Patrick Hagedorn clap while the band plays the school song at a winter sports pep session.

Junior Dillon Hedinger receives encouragement from Coach Joe Litherland during a tournament at Evansville Central. Dillon said, "I like wrestling because it's an individual sport. I'm very competitive and like to challenge myself."

The varsity boys' basketball team runs onto the court as the school song plays. The cheerleaders purchased the huge sign that the Marksmen ran through every game this year. The piping was donated by Fischer's Furniture.

My most memorable moment was winning the 200 medley relay at sectional. I am extremely happy with our success."

Edna Hausenstein, Junior

The support from our fans motivates not just me, but everyone. It gets our confidence up."

Matthew Watts, Freshman

Our coach is very supportive and motivates us to do our best. He really helped me improve my technique."

Blake Alvey, Sophomore

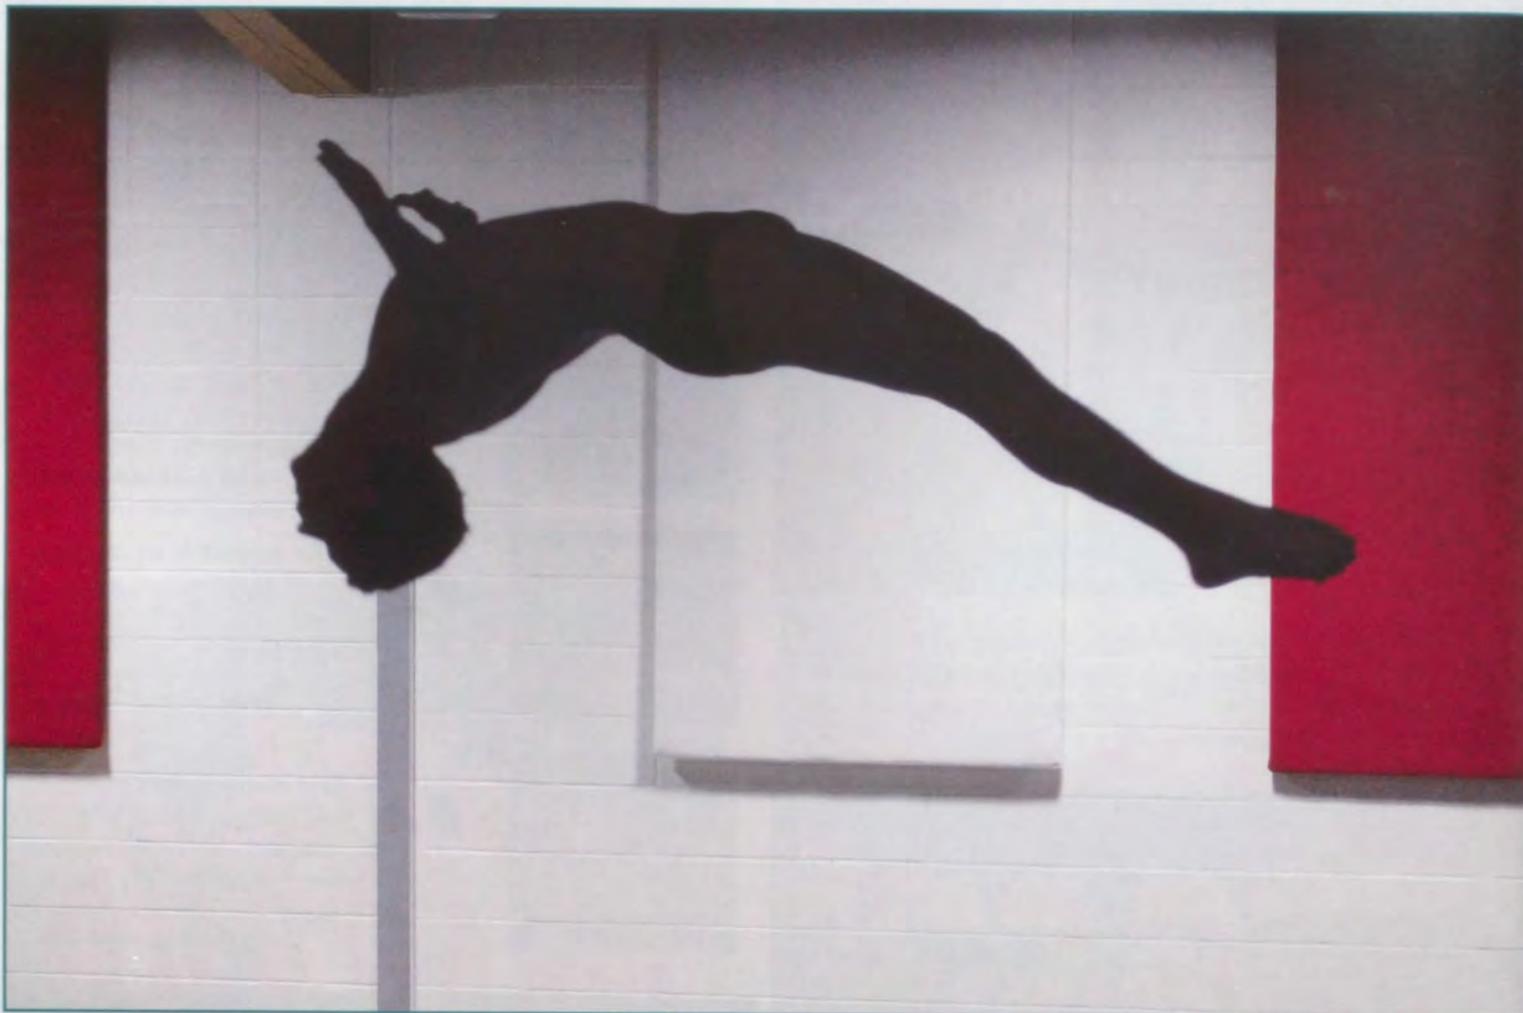

The varsity girls' basketball team comes together after line-up to get motivated before their game at Boonville High School. The Lady Marksmen always talked about their goals before the tip-off.

iTakeThemOn

Boys' Swimming

Junior Taylor Maddie soars through the air in a back dive in the free position.

Freshman Hunter Sandage visualizes his event before the start of his race.

Junior Greg Clayton gasps for breath as he endures the 20 laps that make up the 500 freestyle.

Senior Nick Bower hugs his mother in appreciation at the swimmers' Senior Night.

Marksmen

The boys' swim team had a good year for having so few swimmers. Coach Page said that the team lost most meets as a result of a lack of depth. The team got third in PAC while missing two swimmers, which Coach Page said was "a pretty good showing." Of his last year of coaching, he said, "I've always most enjoyed working with the swimmers themselves."

Junior Jarrod Clayton comes up for air as he competes in the 100 butterfly.

Seniors Chris Martin and Jerry Ammon thank their mothers for their support on Senior Night.

Junior Logan Bolin gracefully completes a backflip in the free position. This was Bolin's third year diving for the Marksmen.

Junior Justin T. Peter takes the first stroke after his flip turn in the 100 backstroke.

iJustKeepSwimming

Girls' Swimming

Sophomore Hana Reed performs a back dive. Reed was the only female diver this year.

Sophomore Bailey Malone swims a 25-yard backstroke to warm down after her race.

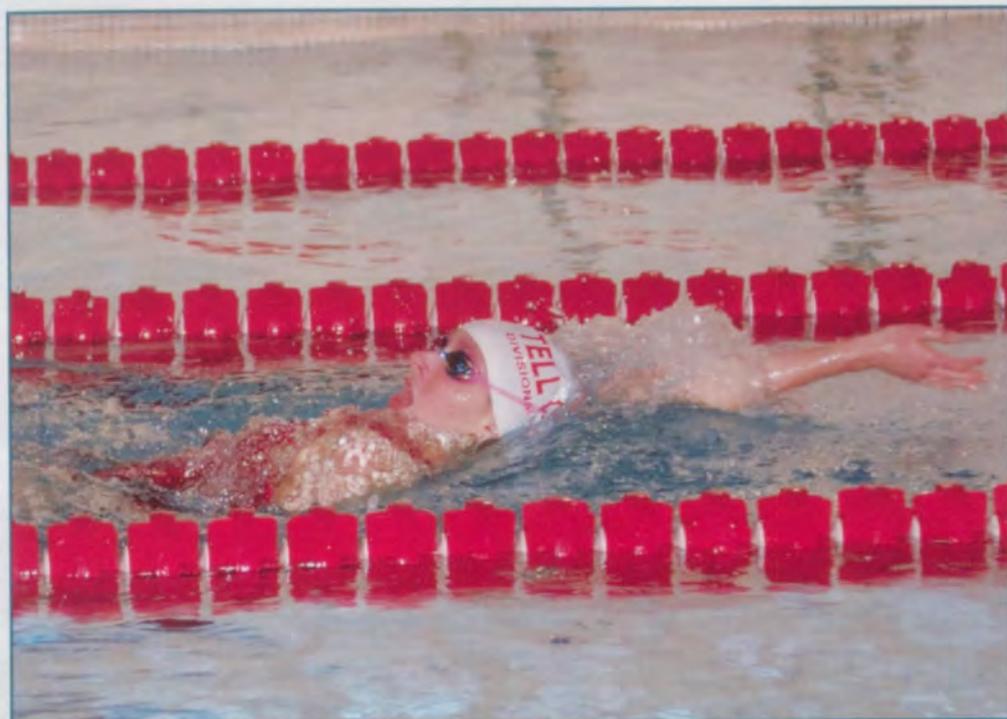

Junior C.J. Fentress takes a deep breath while swimming the 200 free.

Sophomore Klyne Waninger comes up for air as she swims in the 200 individual medley.

Marksmen
 The Lady Marksmen were the 2010 PAC champions. They were a very close team. Chelsea Malone broke the 100 backstroke record with a time of 1:02.60. Chelsea Malone, Amanda Wagner, Erika Hauenstein, and C.J. Fentress broke the school medley relay record with a time of 1:53.82.

Junior Erika Hauenstein furiously fights to gain a lead in backstroke for the 200 individual medley.

The Lady Marksmen pose for a picture after winning PAC for the second year in a row.

Freshman Elizabeth Bishop gasps for air during the 100-yard butterfly. Bishop stated that her favorite memory of the season was winning PAC.

Junior Chelsea Malone competes in the 100-yard backstroke.

iBringItOn

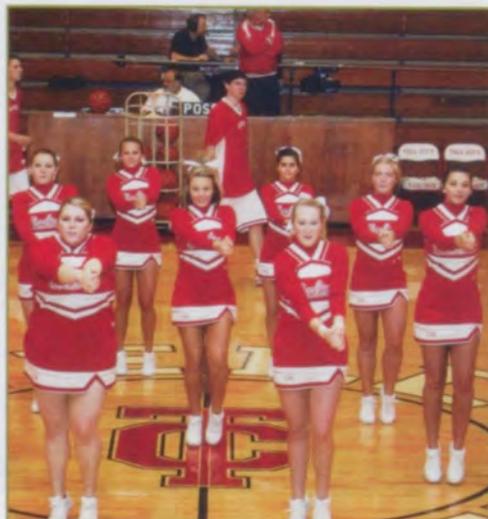

Cheerleading

Senior Caitlin Steen, junior Sydney Grass, and senior Heather Alvey show school spirit to get the crowd going.

The varsity cheerleaders stand in the center of the court and perform the traditional dance to the William Tell Overture.

During the start of every home game, the cheerleaders line up while the Marksmen basketball players run out of the locker room.

Marksmen

The Tell City High School cheerleaders helped raise school spirit during the football and basketball games. The cheerleaders exclaimed they loved their new uniforms, which helped keep them all hyped. The new coach Kris Jones and captain Caitlin Steen motivated the team to reach their goals throughout the year.

Freshman Jessica Braun and sophomore Lacey Kuster stick their stunts as their bases lift them into the air.

Cheer Chat!

"Three characteristics of a great cheerleader are domination, dedication, and determination."

Caitlin Steen Senior

"The best thing about cheering would be when the crowd joins in and they are going absolutely crazy over the game."

Lacey Bolin Junior

"I honestly love our uniforms. I think they keep us motivated to stay fired up throughout the whole game."

Sam Schützler Sophomore

"One thing I will miss is the senior leadership. We bonded with them this year and it's going to be hard without them."

Alexa Adams Freshman

The Lady Marksmen cheerleaders build up spirit with stunts and tumbling as the varsity boys go through line-up.

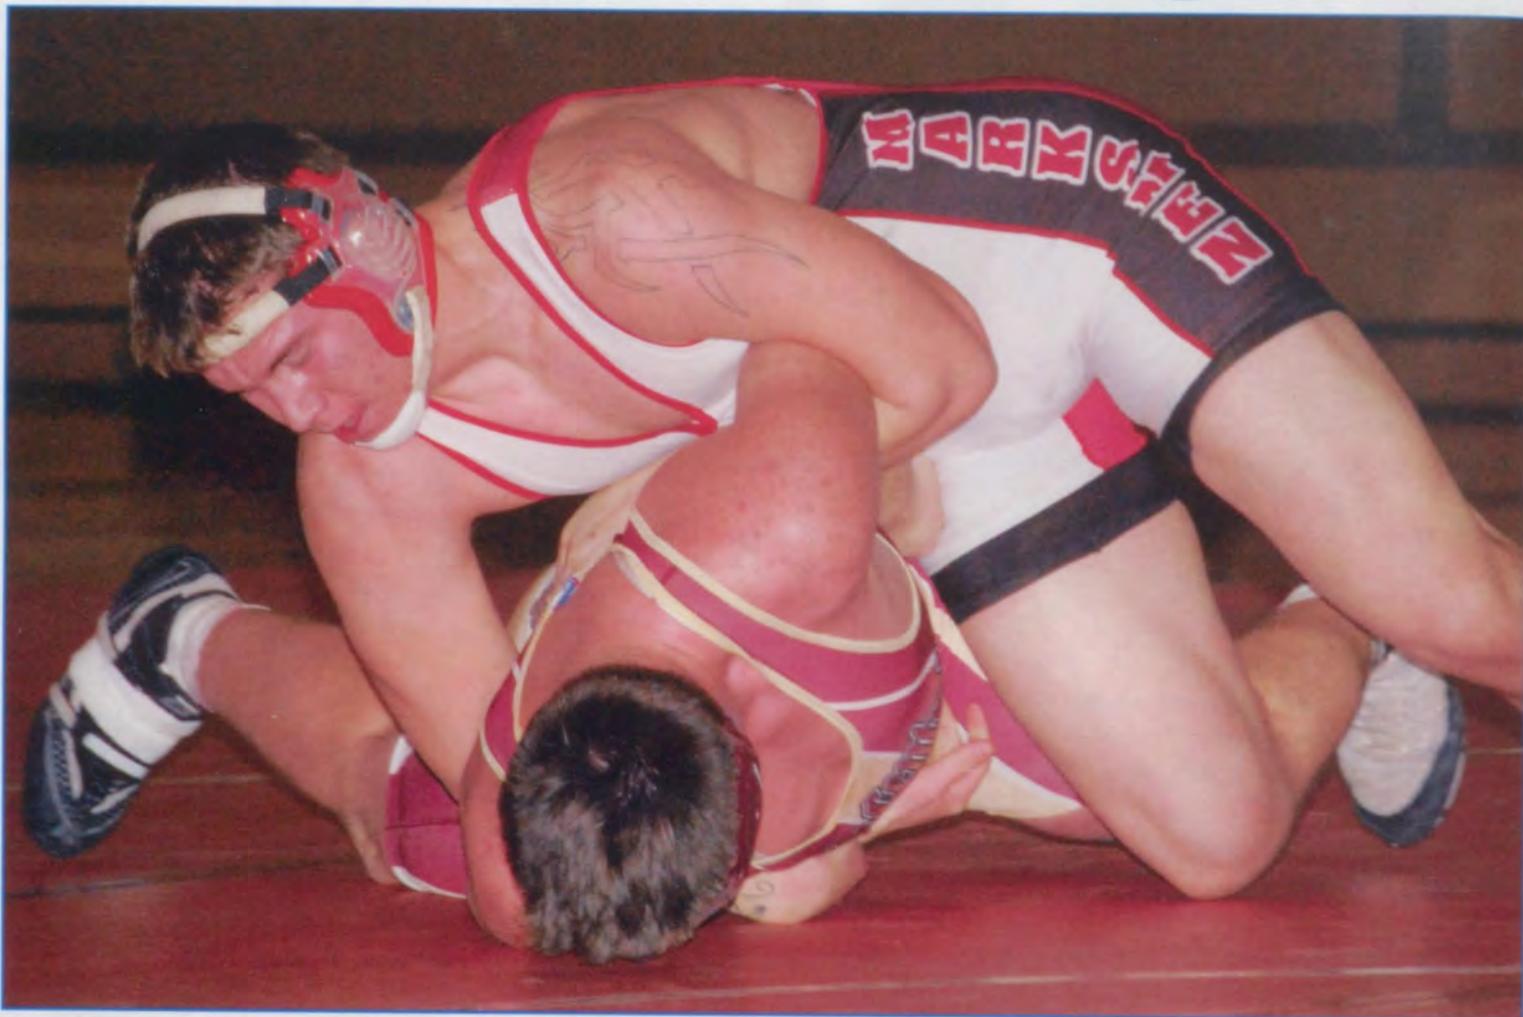

The cheerleaders storm on to the floor with full force, cheering on the Marksmen.

Senior Chelsea Hemmings hits each motion during a cheer. She has been a member of the cheer team for four years.

iBreakItDown

Wrestling

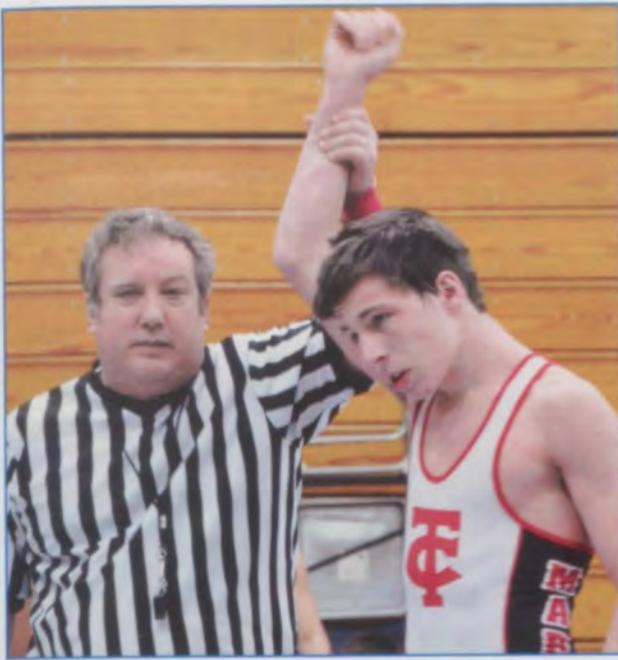

Senior Dylan Froehlich attempts to roll his competitor over and pin him. Froehlich won every regular season match this year.

Sophomore Jessie Lawalin holds his opponent's arms down on the mat and thinks about his next move.

Marksmen

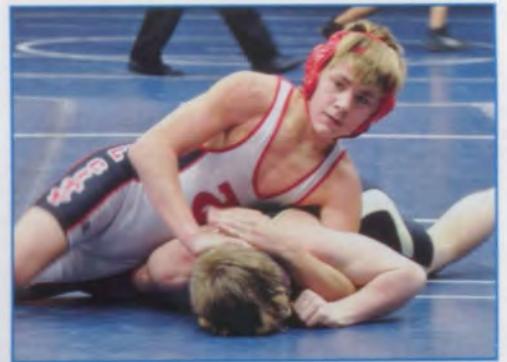

The Marksmen wrestling team had a successful year. They received first place at the Providence tourney, beating 5 teams. They placed 5th in PAC at Crawford County and in sectional. Dylan Froehlich had an outstanding year, placing 5th at state.

Senior Matt Leistner breaks down his opponent. Leistner wrestled all four years of high school.

Freshman J.R. Kieser attempts to make his opponent tap out.

iGetMyHeadInTheGame

Girls' Basketball

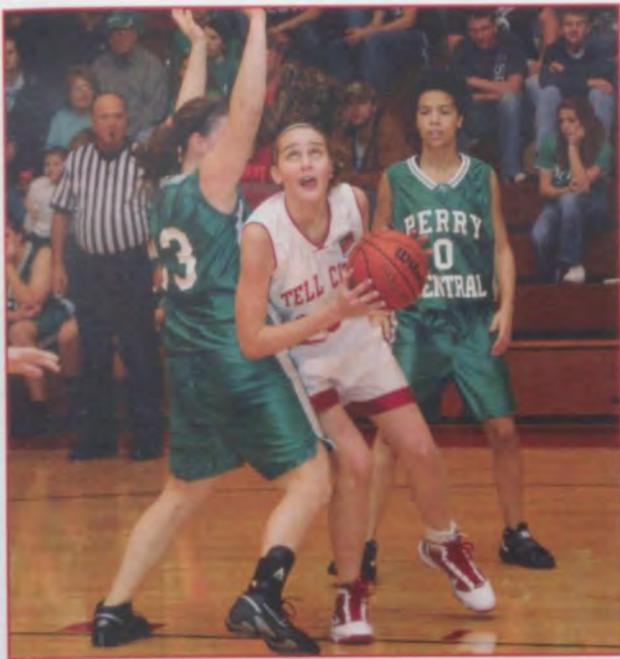

The Lady Marksmen huddle together before a game to get pumped up.

Senior Karen Damin and her parents stand proudly during the senior night ceremony. Damin played as a guard all four years of high school.

Marksmen

The Lady Marksmen kept up good spirits with their senior leadership and ability to get along with each other. Alan Malone joined the coaching staff this year. McKenzie Hayes broke 5 school records, including most rebounds in a single game and most block shots in a season.

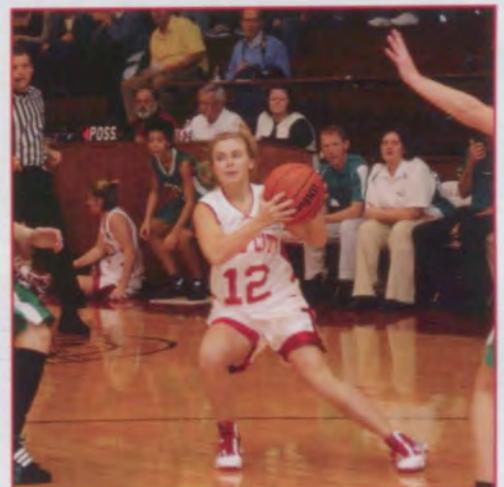

Freshman McKenzie Hayes forces her way to the basket for a jump shot. Hayes was a freshman starter and was named to the All-Conference team.

Senior Kyli Smithson pushes the ball up the court and away from her defender. Smithson played on the varsity team her sophomore through senior years.

Sophomore Rachel Woznicki dribbles the ball past her fallen opponent and looks up the court to score.

Senior Mariah Alvey watches the free throw shooter and prepares to box out. Alvey played on varsity for 3 years.

Junior Courtney Young fakes left in order to drive to the top of the key. Young was the only returning junior.

iShutItDown

Boys' Basketball

The varsity basketball team huddles together before playing against rival Perry Central.

Junior Trent Benningfield concentrates on driving the ball to the basket.

Junior Tyler Dauby dribbles the basketball low along the boundary line.

Marksmen
 The Tell City Marksmen played a hard season this year. Trent Gunn and Travis Jones represented the Marksmen as captains. Coach Hayes said, "Wins over Perry Central and Hancock County were fought hard. The team was very close knit this year and worked well together."

Junior Trent Gunn fakes out two Mater Dei guards. Senior Alex Cole and junior Shane Weedman follow Gunn to the Marksmen end of the court.

Junior Sean Flannagan jumps up to fight for the tip-off against a South Spencer Rebel.

Senior Travis Jones patiently waits, with a South Spencer Rebel, for the buzzer to sound signaling his entry to the game.

Junior Nick Kleaving drives toward the goal past a Mater Dei guard.

Basketball Homecoming

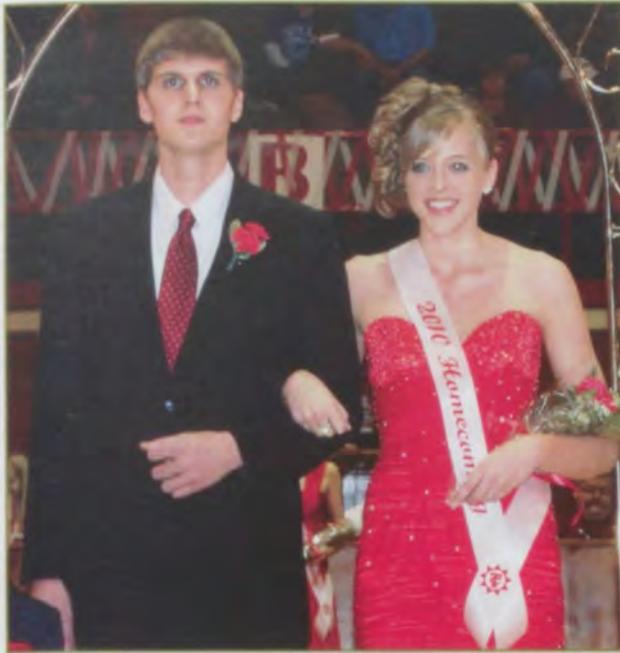

King Tyler Jennings and Queen Kyli Smithson smile for a picture after being crowned.

Michael Richmer and Cortni Strobel proudly walk out onto the court for all of the flashing cameras. They represented the junior class.

Senior Jay Peter stands underneath the arch in the center of the gym floor. This was Jay's first time to be elected into the homecoming court.

Marksmen

The 2010 basketball homecoming was held on February 5. Tyler Jennings and Kyli Smithson were crowned King and Queen. Tyler said, "Being a part of the homecoming ceremony was an honor. I had no thoughts of winning, but was very excited to know I had won"

Senior candidates Trent Wheatley and Ashley Fella wait under the arch as they are recognized.

How did it feel to be in the homecoming court?

LOOKING BACK

"It was an honor to be able to help represent the sophomore class. It was a great experience and hopefully I can do it again before I graduate."

Christopher Kolmont, Sophomore

"Being in the homecoming court was exciting and intimidating. It made me feel good to know that students of our class wanted me to represent the sophomore class."

Kyra Howe, Sophomore

Senior homecoming queen candidates Ashley Fella, Brittany Waning, Mariah Alvey, and Kyli Smithson pose for a picture before the homecoming ceremony. Kyli was honored to know that the student body had voted her to be their 2010 basketball homecoming queen.

Wyatt Kreilein and Mary Ann Hollinden were the crown bearers for homecoming.

Freshmen Kierre Hillenbrand and Ali Holmes walk to their position on the court.

Winter Dance, A Red Carpet Affair

“SHE SAID”

“This year’s winter dance was definitely my favorite. My most memorable moment was going out to eat with all of my friends.”

Cassidy Barnhill, Junior

“HE SAID”

“This dance was much better than the ones in junior high. My most memorable moment was when ‘Sandstorm’ was played.”

Brian Ansdell, Freshman

The winter semi-formal was held on January 15, 2010. Everyone felt famous as they walked in on the red carpet to a Hollywood-themed dance. Over 350 students attended the Red Carpet Affair. Senior Elizabeth Kohnert said, “This dance was the most fun. I liked the chandelier above the dance floor.” The majority of the student body stated that they thought the dance should stay semi-formal. Student Council sponsor Mr. Hall said, “Several Student Council members came in to work nights starting in November to prepare for the dance. They all worked very hard to put it together.”

Senior Brittany Waninger dances to the music. She said, “I liked the decorations. They were very creative and neat. This year, since I am a senior, I was more carefree and danced.”

Juniors Kyle Shrub, Matthew Gallagher, Justin T. Peter, and Jordan Greene pose to take a quick picture.

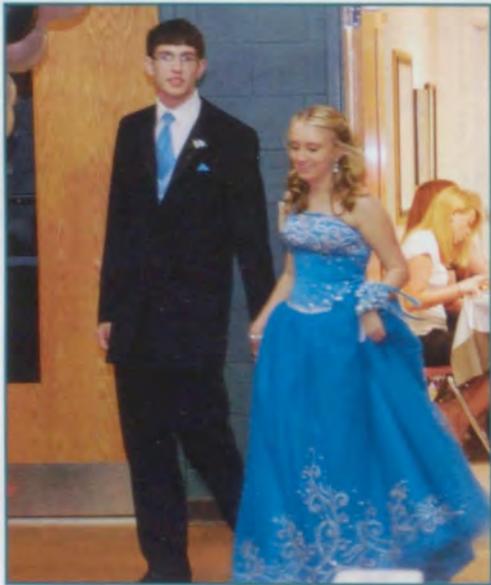

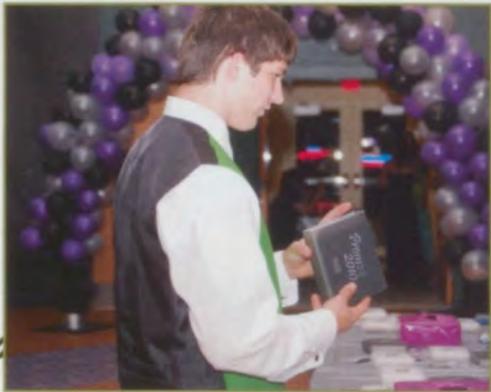

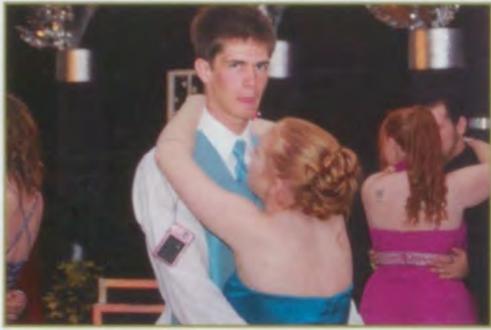

Seniors Jordan Alvey and Michael Maddle do the “Stanky Leg” for everyone at the dance.

Prom 2010

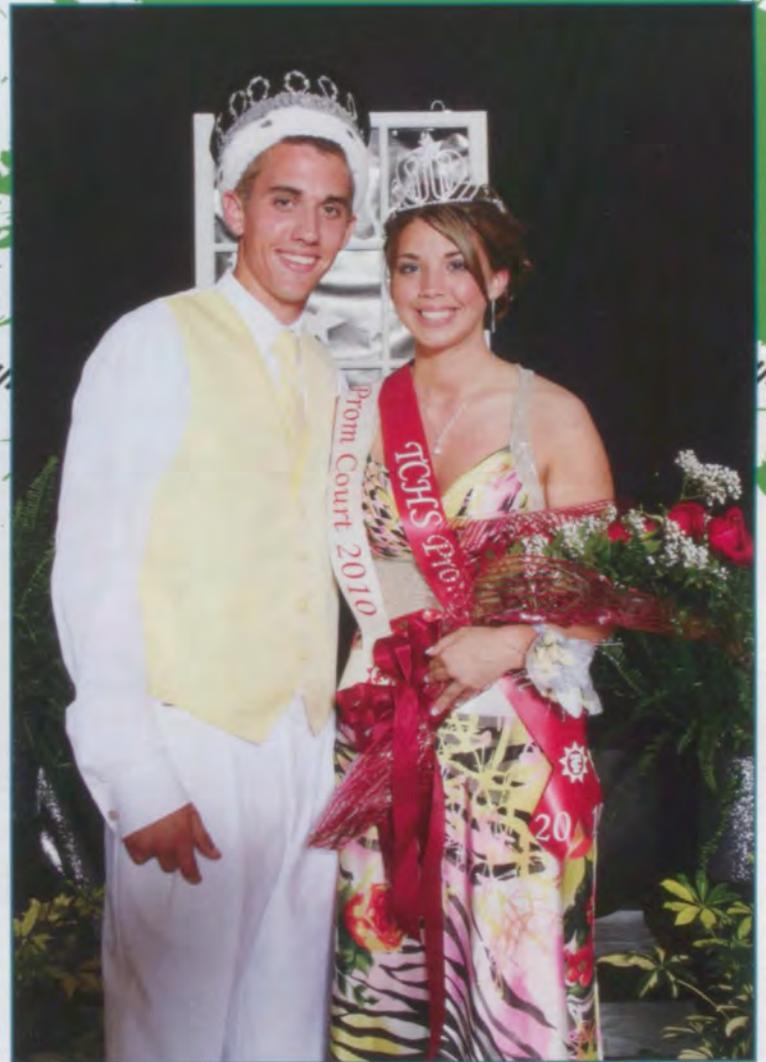

From masked faces to dancing the night away, the Schergen's Center was transformed into "Illusions in the Night" for the 2010 Junior-Senior Prom on April 24. After Prom was held at Tell City High School, with many activities such as blown-up obstacle courses, cornhole, prize drawings and a money booth. When asked how junior Laurie Saalman's night was, she said "We got lost coming home after going out to eat, but once we made it to prom safe and sound it was a grand ol' time." Over all, the night was one that would not be easily forgotten.

Senior Russell Grosvenor places his prom ballot into the box after he arrives.

Jordan Alvey and Caitlin Steen, seniors, are all smiles after being crowned the 2010 Prom King and Queen.

Spring Fling

Spring Fling was held on Friday, May 14. Every year Student Council hosts this event as a fun end-of-the-year activity. Students and staff were released from fifth period to participate in the fun. This year's events included boat races, dodgeball tourney, movies, cards, board games, slip and slide, cornhole, ultimate frisbee, and volleyball. Senior Trish Solbrig said, "My favorite activity from Spring Fling was the slip and slide because it's a lot of fun and a good opportunity for people to get out and just let loose." Senior Jeri Pierce said, "To make Spring Fling better, I think it should be all day."

1. Junior Chris Miles serves the volleyball at the beginning of the activities. 2. Senior Brian Richardt holds his nose as he leaps off of the diving board. 3. A group of girls sit in a circle as they play Catch Phrase.

Junior Neil Huthsteiner smiles as he goes down the slip and slide with his friends.

Freshman Tyler Fuentes raises his hands as his boat sinks, knowing he has lost the race.

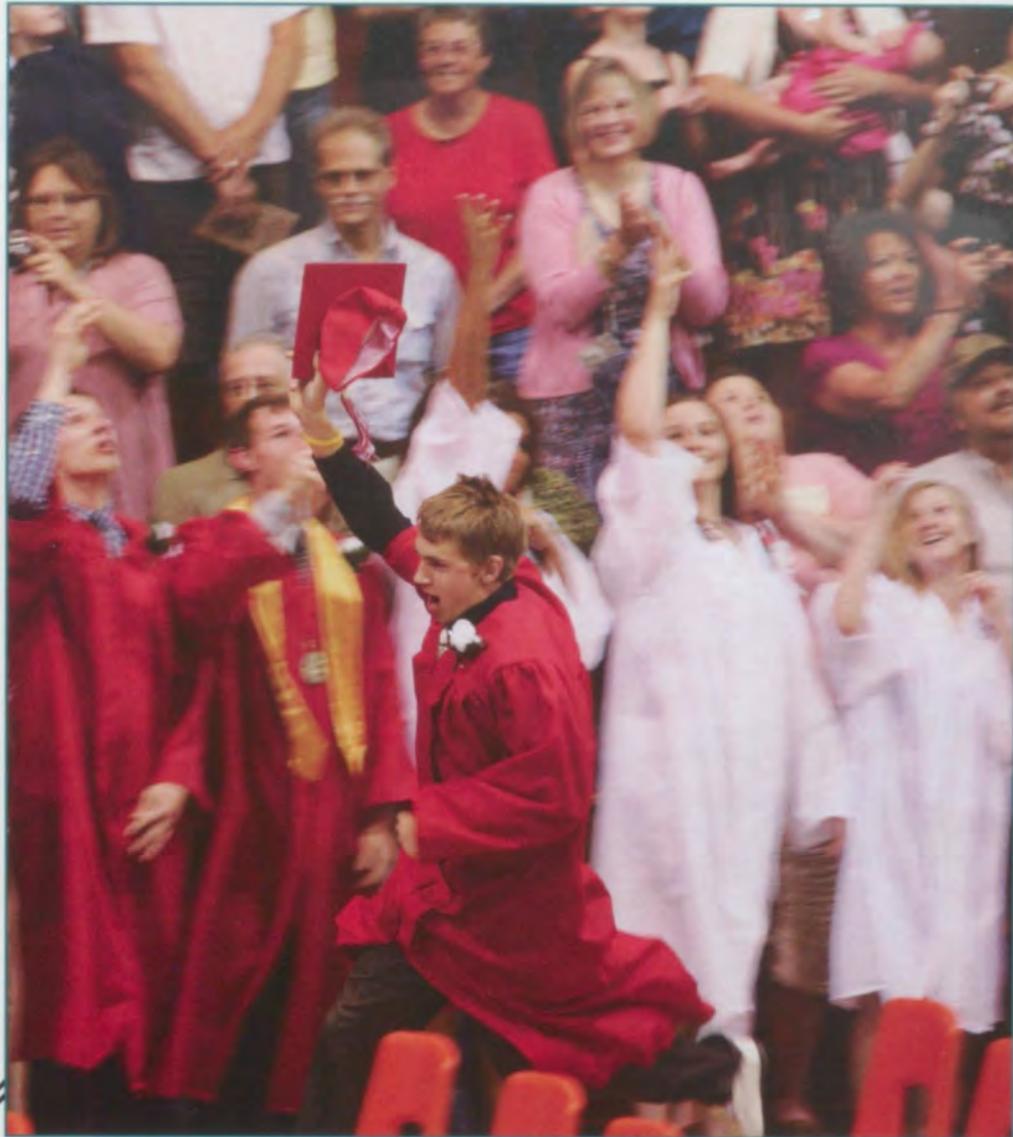

Junior Tara Cecil quickly goes down the slip and slide feet first. Tara said, "My favorite part of Spring Fling would have to be the slip and slide. I love going down it and knocking into people."

Nick Bower, the 2010 Honor Graduate, leads the graduates in a wave for the cap toss.

Graduation

1. Nathan Ramsey shakes Mr. Etienne's hand. 2. Valedictorian Hunter Dauby gives his speech. 3. Matt Kaufman, Felicia Kellems, and Alannah King patiently wait for their names to be called.

On May 21, 2010, 106 of Tell City High School's students walked across the stage to receive their high school diplomas. Sixteen of those students graduated with an Academic Honors Diploma. The class flower was a white violet and the class colors were cream and crimson. The opening was given by Chelsea Hay and Mariah Nix gave the closing. Class President Patrick Hagedorn gave the welcome speech and Kyli Smithson led the turning of the tassels. Superintendent Ron Etienne met the students on the stage with handshakes and their diplomas. The Class of 2010 sponsors were Dan Lacy and John Hayes. Valedictorian was Hunter Dauby and salutatorian was A.J. Hynn. Two other graduates, Mariah Nix and Travis Jones, also earned GPAs over 4.0.

Gus Lain, Matthew Leistener, Blake Lindsey, and Casey Litherland wait for the ceremony to begin.

Amber Patrick and Lauren Coyle march down the aisle to take their seats.

Krystal Robinson smiles proudly at Mr. Etienne as she receives her diploma.

Foreign Exchange Students

Juniors Helen Schmidt, Lucia Markova, and Christoph Drexler create sundaes during the Ice Cream Social held for new students at TCHS every year.

Memories...

"I will miss my new friends, my second family, and the best host sister in the world!"

Helen Schmidt

"I participated in soccer, track, Pep Club, Hackey Sack Club, Language Club, and Film Society."

Christoph Drexler

"The most exciting thing I did when I arrived in America was tubing on the river with my host family. I will miss my host family and my American friends the most."

Lucia Markova

"My favorite American foods are Oreos, Reese's, and Mountain Dew. I will miss my friends and my host family the most when I leave."

Pauline Lising

The exchange students show their personalities by making funny faces and silly poses. They all came to America for a 10-month stay.

Retirement

Mr. Rice

Mr. Rice has worked at TCHS for 35 years as the building trades teacher. When asked if he would recommend his job he said, "Of course, but only to someone who is qualified. That doesn't mean just having a teaching license." After he retires he plans to fish, hunt, travel, boat, and copy on the TCHS English Department.

Mr. Page has worked at TCHS for 30 years as the health and physical education teacher and also as the Lady Marksmen swim coach. Coach Page said, "My favorite thing about my job is teaching non-swimmers how to swim." After he retires he plans to travel and play golf.

Mr. Page

Mr. Reasoner

Mr. Reasoner has worked at TCHS for 25 years as the band, choir, and guitar teacher. He has also taught music theory and music history classes. When asked what advice he would give new teachers, he said, "Age and treachery will always triumph over youth and skill." After he retires, he plans to work when he must and play whenever he pleases.

Spring Sports

Junior Trent Benningfield prepares to throw a pitch to a South Central batter. Benningfield was one of the main pitchers this year and has played all three years of his high school career.

Freshman Matthew Watts prepares to tee off for the first hole. This was Watts' first year playing golf.

Junior Josalyn Ress and freshman McKenzie Hayes give each other a high five after a good play.

Junior Alexis Braun volleys the ball during a home match. The team conditioned since February and practiced every day after school until 5:30.

Junior Dylan Stewart pushes himself to move forward in the 100-meter dash. Stewart also ran the 400-meter relay.

The archery team takes a photo after attending a competition. This was the second year for the team at TCHS. Jay Johnson, Glenn Goffinet, and Cindy Seibert helped with the program.

“My favorite memory from baseball season would be the interesting bus rides to and from the games.”
Dayne Seibert, Sophomore

“My favorite memory from track season is winning the last track meet before PAC.”
Loren Brounacker, Freshman

“My favorite memory from the softball season is being so close with everyone. We all get along so well.”
Taylor Benningfeld, Freshman

Sophomore Sarah Goffinet strives to do her best in the 1600-meter relay.

iAmReadyForIt

Girls' Track

Junior Katlyn Braunecker and senior Mariah Nix sprint to challenge their opponents in the 100-meter dash.

Freshman Hanna Goffinet paces herself to keep the team's lead in the 3200-meter relay. The relay consisted of Hanna Goffinet, Andyn Rowe, Sarah Goffinet and Courtney Young.

Freshman Lindsay Kast jumps to clear a hurdle in the 100-meter hurdles. Kast was the only hurdler on the team this year.

Junior Andyn Rowe closely races her Perry Central rivals in the 3200-meter run.

Marksman
 The Lady Marksman track and field team had a strong year, though a lack of numbers made it hard to triumph in most meets. 5 girls qualified for regionals: Sarah Goffinet, sectional champion in the 1600; Elizabeth Kohnert, 2nd in both high jump and long jump; Kayla Galloway, 2nd in discus, Andyn Rowe, 4th in the 3200; and Lindsay Kast, 4th in the 300 hurdles. Galloway went on to qualify for state.

Junior Courtney Blinzinger receives the baton from teammate freshman Jami Rowe in the 1600-meter relay.

Junior Courtney Young pulls ahead of her competitors in the 400-meter dash.

iAmStronger

Boys Track

Junior Colton Thomas runs the 100-meter dash. Thomas also ran the 400-meter relay, 1600-meter relay, and the 200-meter dash for the Marksmen.

Senior Jerry Ammon pushes to pull ahead in the 100-meter dash.

Sophomore Trent Nelson lands in the sand, being careful not to fall backwards after his long jump.

Marksmen
 The boys' track team excelled this year. The 4x4 and 4x1 relays performed well throughout the season. The top performers were thrower Tyrel Newlin, distance runner Zach Wilson, sprinters Ryan Henrickson and Colton Thomas, and pole vaulter Nathan Ramsey.

Senior Nathan Ramsey forces himself over the vault. This was Ramsey's first year for pole-vaulting.

Junior David McDaniel tries to pull his body upward to get over the high jump.

Junior Tyler Dauby jumps over a hurdle in the 110-meter hurdle race. Dauby was the PAC champion in the 110 race.

Girls' Tennis

Senior Bethany Peter follows through after hitting a forehand. Peter advanced to the individual tennis sectional.

Senior Samantha Kiplinger throws the ball up before serving in a home match against Boonville.

Marksmen

The girls' tennis team worked very well together this year. Coach Weyer said, "The team put forth the most effort they could and the amount of improvement throughout the season is incredible. Bethany Peter and Brooke Birchler both showed remarkable leadership skills."

LOOKING BACK

FAVORITE MEMORY FROM TENNIS!

"My favorite memory was all of the cheers and chants Helen came up with before and after matches or practices."

Aleta Brown, Junior

"My favorite memory was the Easter egg hunt followed by playing soccer during tennis conditioning."

Robyn Scarpa, Sophomore

Junior Lucia Markova prepares to lob the tennis ball.

Junior Kayla Bailey watches the tennis ball after hitting a backhand.

Junior Helen Schmidt leans after hitting an across-court shot to her opponent.

Boys' Golf

Junior Nathan Wood looks ahead as he hits his golf ball towards the first hole. Wood has played golf since his freshman year.

Junior Seth Ward chats with Coach Keith Feldpausch as he waits for his turn to hit.

Junior Logan Bolin places his golf bag down after a climb to the top of the hill.

Marksman

There were only four members on the Marksman boys' golf team. The team prevailed over overwhelming odds to have a successful season. This is Coach Keith Feldpausch's first year as coach of the boy's golf team. According to the players, he has helped the team improve.

Seth Ward hits the ball off of the side of the hill to get it closer to the hole. This was Ward's first year on the team.

Nathan Wood uses his putter for a soft putt into the hole.

Logan Bolin gets ready to putt the ball closer to the hole. Bolin has played golf for three years.

Matthew Watts tries to hit the ball away from the side of the lake.

iCanBeCenterfield

Softball

The varsity softball team huddles in a circle for a pep talk before the first pitch.

Junior Cortni Strobel follows through with her swing after hitting a grounder.

Junior Sydney Grass jumps to attempt to catch a pop-up to deep right field. Grass got the ball back into the infield quickly and the runner only got a single.

Sophomore Hana Reed and senior Karen Damin reach for a grounder while senior Kyli Smithson runs to back them up.

Marksmen

The Lady Marksmen softball team had a very successful year. All of the girls got along well and enjoyed the season. Senior players were Jamie Brinksneider, Kyli Smithson, Courtney Cain, and Karen Damin.

Senior Courtney Cain swings for the fence and almost succeeds by hitting a double.

Senior Kyli Smithson catches a pitch behind home plate.

Freshman McKenzie Hayes stretches to catch a throw to get out the runner going to first base.

Junior Josalyn Ress pushes hard off the mound to gain speed on the ball.

iLoadUpTheBases

Baseball

Coach Wahl gives a motivational speech after a win over Pike Central. The Marksmen won 13 to 1.

Senior Travis Jones rounds third base and looks to see if he has time to make it to home plate. Jones started at second base all year.

Senior Kyle Osborne makes a strong swing and hopes for a good hit against Pike Central. Osborne has played baseball all four years of high school.

Marksmen

The Marksmen had a very experienced baseball team this year with seven seniors and many returning starters. They were known as the "County Champs" as they beat both Cannelton and Perry Central. Coach Wahl always encouraged the Marksmen to try their best at every game.

Senior Michael Maddie prepares to catch a pitch thrown by Shane Weedman. Maddie played as the Marksmen catcher for three years.

Junior Trent Gunn swings his bat to make a good hit against Northeast Dubois.

Sophomore Jordan Heck prepares to get an out. Heck started at first base for the Marksmen.

Remembering Davy Hebeisen

Davy spent an endless amount of his vacation to fly to Indiana from California to help the Tell City band.

Chris Huntowski, Davy Hebeisen, Natasha Edmonson, Barry Reasoner and Sarah Edmonson take pictures at a band kick-off event.

Davy Hebeisen and Dale Wikerson sit together at an event.

Davy Hebeisen has helped the band accomplish many things these past twenty years. He came up with many concepts for the Marching Marksmen's shows, and added extra flair that really gave them a lasting impression. He had worked in musical performance previously as a singer and dancer at Holiday World and as a performer in off-Broadway shows in California. Even in the most uncertain of times, Davy could provide hope and inspiration. It is without a doubt that his memory will never leave our hearts.

"Music, when soft voices die, Vibrates in the memory..."
—Percy Bysshe Shelley

What is one thing you remember most about Davy?

"I remember all of his speeches. He would give the band an uplifting and motivational speech every time he was here. He always made you feel positive no matter what was going on. He taught me to never quit trying. No matter how hard something was he made you feel like you could do it."

Lawren E. Coyle, Senior

What kind of teacher/performer do you think Davy was?

"He was the kind of teacher that uses his strength to help other people get stronger, and the kind of performer that you never want to take your eyes off of."

Saura Denoncour, Junior

Remembering Mr. Allen Kramer

Mr. Kramer had previously been a teacher at Tell City High School for thirty-seven years. He started in 1960 and retired in 1997. He taught mathematics and science. He helped many students, having been presented the Realizing the Dream Award from the Independent Colleges of Indiana in 1996. He then received the Teacher of the Year Award from the Tell City-Troy Township School Corporation in 1992. It is said that a teacher can have a huge impact on your life, and such an impact can never be forgotten. This is especially true for Mr. Kramer.

"To teach is to touch lives forever."

—Anonymous

What do you think made Mr. Kramer different from everyone else?

"He loved to teach. Even after he retired, he offered free tutoring sessions here at the high school at least one evening per week. He had a loyal following!"

Mrs. Becky Owen

What kind of teacher do you think Mr. Kramer was?

"He was a very eccentric man, always having ink all over his hands and arms from an overhead projector. I remember that he was the only man I knew who used the word rigamarole, saying things like 'Now you can go through all that rigamarole, but I'd rather use this shortcut!' He obviously loved his job, knew his subject, was passionate about his work, and was dedicated to our school and students."

This year, the 2010 Sagittarius staff was composed of seven members during the second semester. There were five senior members, one junior member, and one sophomore member. Mrs. Brandy Aubrey was the yearbook adviser and Mrs. Lisa Noble helped. Morgan Rainey served as the editor. The yearbook class was fortunate enough to have a Nikon D40 SLR camera. This year the staff attended a workshop in Evansville in September to design the 2010 Sagittarius cover. The theme that they developed was a music theme with the title iLiveOutLoud. They chose pictures that were taken around the school to insert into the iPod screens. They added another personal touch by creating silhouettes of themselves used on the endsheets as the table of contents. Herff Jones printed the yearbook and Angela St. Clair was the yearbook representative. The staff is very proud of their hard work and all that they have achieved this year.

Morgan Rainey, Senior

"...being so close with the other girls, it makes things a lot easier."

Brittney Harth, Senior

"...being able to create my own pages and having fun with all the girls."

Chelsea Hay, Senior

"...working with my friends and filling spaces of awkwardness."

Mariah Nix, Senior

"...being in a class where everyone gets along."

Mariah Alvey, Senior

"...being able to go off campus to sell ads."

Courtney Young, Junior

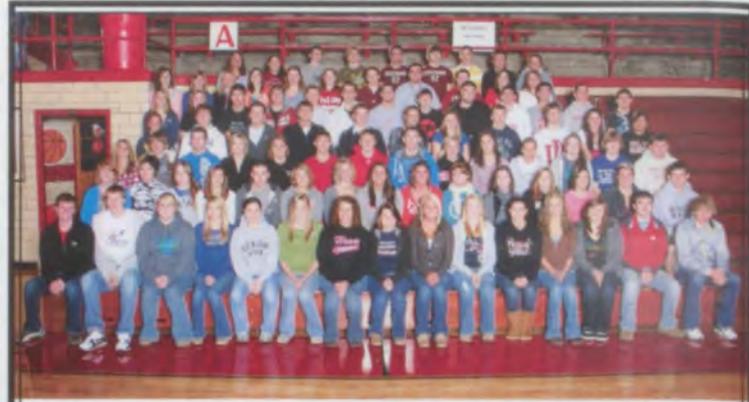

"...being able to use my creativity."
