IMPORTANT INFORMATION

TCHS moves forward

Students and faculty returning to Tell City High School following summer vacation were greeted by several changes and more were added throughout the school year.

An expanded intramural program, which included coed volleyball and an exercise class, was made available for student participation.

The P.E. gym was opened during lunch where Mr. Katterhenry supervised various student activities such as ping-pong and basketball.

The halls were filled with music from 7:30 until 8:00 each morning, as popular songs from a local radio station sounded over the public address system.

In an effort to minimize class interruptions, the P.A. was also used to page students between periods in lieu of sending notes during classes.

The Student Council used proceeds from the annual Christmas Dance to help purchase benches for the bus loading zone.

New directory bulletin boards were found at two locations which not only enabled visitors to reach their destinations more easily but also aided students in keeping

Right: Homerooms are a time for class meetings, club meetings, elections, etc. Mr. Lochmueller's senior homeroom enjoys socializing while waiting for the bell.

Before school begins, the students, including Ed Parker (above), casually drop by the school and pick up their schedule from Mr. Lowe and make any necessary changes. However, second semester is much more hectic as everyone gets their new schedule at the same time during homeroom. Then there is a mad dash to the guidance office to make last minute changes. Terry Theis (left) beats the crowd!

Since all groups have to raise money to pay for their activities, it seems as if someone is always selling items such as a yearbook, a Christmas bell, pizza, cookies, jumper ca-

Below: Lost and Found items are sent to the office. Mr. Overmeyer is modeling the latest "finds."

Right: The sophomores pulled with all their might but just couldn't beat the seniors in the first round of the tug-of-war.

Left: Due to the state of the economy in Tell City, Citizen's National Bank offered $5,000 to anyone who was instrumental in getting a new industry to locate in our area. Picking up this news tip, Channel 3, Louisville, visited Tell City and interviewed several people. Scott Ingram was one of the lucky vocational students who appeared on the evening news.

Below: Photographer Ray Wiseman is often seen around high school taking pictures for The News. This time it is basketball homecoming candidates turn: K. Webb, J. Kendall, D. Haller, and L. Briggeman.

The cafeteria was given a new look with several potted and hanging plants.

A picture of the original 1928 TCHS building painted by John Butler was purchased and hung in the main office.

Another purchase included huge white and red trash containers which replaced the small ones throughout the school grounds.

More dances after football and basketball games were held with many in attendance.

New procedures for using the library were used in 1984-85 and seemed to be working quite well. Students could enter the library during their study halls only if they had a pass from their teacher or if it was their row's turn to go.

In conclusion, many changes were made during the 1984-85 school year, all of which seemed to better Tell City High school.

Above: Mother Nature was kind to the student body by providing enough ice and snow to keep them out of classes nine days. Also, school was on one-hour delay for several days. Center: Snow on the last day of the first semester enabled some students to escape the "dreaded final". This also added confusion in trying to collect and distribute textbooks. However, with a little cooperation by all, it was a "painless" procedure. Mr. Pride and Mr. Labhart collect books and assess any damage fees.

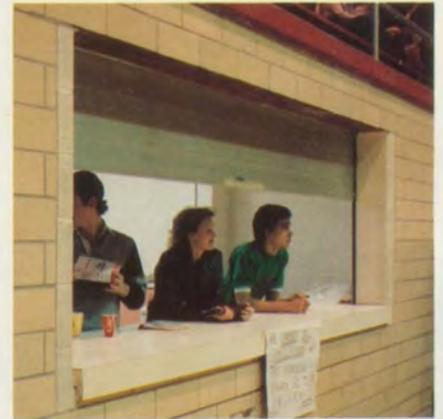

The faculty and staff were treated to a delicious breakfast by the student council. Kim Batie, Debbie Tsantis, Traci Blunk, and Mary Jane Smitely were among those arriving at school at 6:30 A.M. to serve the teachers on their day off!

The Girl's Swim Team created their own enthusiasm by decorating the halls for their sectional. Members Karen Ludwig, Michaeline Borders, and Michelle Mills work in the band hallway.

Getting a bird's eye view of the ball game, Jerry Weatherholt, Julie Howard, and Chris Bolin are among the many students who helped in the concession stand!

The gym got a workout the day of the Christmas dance as Mary Jane Smitley and other student council members try to decorate and stay out of the wrestlers' way at the same time!

DIANE REIGNS

Following an excellent halftime show by the Marching Marksmen, the eagerly anticipated Homecoming ceremony began. As the band began to softly play "Falling In Love", Freshman Attendant Kristy Black and escort Nick Goffinet followed the little football and crown bearers across the field. The Sophomore class's choice, Traci Blunk and escort Rick Arnold, were the next to walk down the fifty yard line, followed by Junior Class Attendant Laurie Sollman who was escorted by Scott Schmitt. The question in everyone's mind as they watched the four queen candidates, Lori Ball, Diane Carter, Debbie Haller, and Kathy Webb, walk across the field was: To whom would Student Council President Barb Ludwig present roses, and which couple would be the next to stand under the traditional arch? There was a drumroll, a slight pause, and then the name Diane Carter rang out across the loudspeaker.

Queen is crowned amidst the snowflakes

It began when the senior basketball players nominated the four candidates, Joni Kendall, Debbie Haller, Lori Briggeman, and Kathy Webb. Following the nomination of the candidates, the student body elected their representatives: freshman, Sherri Luecke; sophomore, Mary Jane Smitley; and junior, Kelly Jarboe. During Homecoming on Jan. 9, the student body elected the queen.

Finally Homecoming arrived, and despite the 2-inch snowfall and bitter cold temperature, students turned out to witness the event. In room 302 the court assembled to receive flowers and prepare for the Homecoming ceremonies.

Before the start of the Boonville-Tell City game, and following a drum roll, Queen Joni Kendall was announced as having been elected by the student body of TCHS. Following the game, a dance was held for the entire student body.

Last minute adjustments of a tie or corsage do matter. Making those are Denny Barket and Stacy Kratzer.

GUESTS VIEW NEW HORIZONS

Tell City High School is privileged to host three foreign students for the 1984-85 school year. Anja Biester, Estela Escobar, and Javier Herrero are all from different cultures, but will experience many of the same difficulties, adaptations, and adventures in our American society.

When told about the foreign exchange student program from her English teacher back in Hannover, Germany, Anja Biester found the program to seem interesting and applied. The organization then placed her in Tell City from August 15, 1984 until July 9, 1985 under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mulzer. Although adjusting to American life wasn't difficult for Anja, school life was. In Germany school is spread throughout all twelve months with four breaks within: six weeks in the summer, a week in the fall, and three weeks for both Easter and Christmas. Anja's German school day lasts from 7:45 to 1:00. Because of this short day, the students are not given a lunch period, but two fifteen minute breaks instead. Naturally, Anja misses her parents, but she also misses the "big city life."

Javier Herrero's story is not as simple as applying and being placed. His mother wanted him to come to the USA to better his English and asked one of Javier's uncles if he knew where Javier could stay. His uncle had come to Tell City to present a conference on Spanish and had stayed with the Gary Becker family during his stay. Javier's parents then contacted the Beckers and asked if Javier could stay. They agreed, so he is here for his freshman year. Javier stated that because of the new vocabulary, English class is difficult. Making new friends was an obstacle he had to overcome along with realizing that missing his parents, two brothers, and one sister, and German shepherd, "Yonn" is only natural.

Although from another continent, Estela Escobar's path to Tell City is similar to Anja's. Estela was told about the Youth for Understanding, an organization much like the Foreign Exchange Program, and was sent to stay with the tom Weber family in Troy. She arrived from Monteria, Colombia in January and will stay until July. Back across the miles, Estela has four brothers, one sister, three dogs, one cat, and three turtles. Besides a little trouble with English conversation the first couple of weeks, adjusting to USA life was not difficult; Colombian life is much the same for teenagers as well as for the family.

Wander Indiana

The yearbook staff went to the student parking lot in search of the variety of transportation of student drivers. Most of the students with licenses drive to school in what they have begged, borrowed, or pleaded for. The newest of the cars we found was a 1984 Pontiac Firebird driven by David Schank. The oldest was a 1964 Ford Falcon driven by Kevin Lautner. The most expensive car was Denny Barket's red Corvette. Another form of transportation other than a car was Brad Eberle's Bronco. These are just four of the students who feel it is necessary to drive themselves to school, while others rely on just hoofing it. Most TCHS students with licenses take what they can get!

VACATION TIME

Dear Santa,

Please bring me warm weather on the day of the Christmas parade because I have to march! Also, I want a good looking date for the dance. And, just one more thing, please let there be lots of snow during the holidays so I can go skiing. Thanks!

REAGAN TAKES PERRY COUNTY AND TCHS VOTE!!

Tuesday, November 6 was election day throughout the country. TCHS students became active participants by voting, working at the high school mock election, or by going out and working with the candidates at the various precincts. Thirty-six social studies students volunteered during study hall to conduct the school election while seventeen students worked the polls in Tell City and Troy.

At the mock election, the Republican ticket, Reagan/Bush, won the presidential election by 226 votes. The Republican ticket continued a winner on the state level with Governor Orr, Lieutenant Governor Mutz, Attorney General Pearson, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Negley.

Locally, although Perry County historically is a Democrat stronghold, Reagan/Bush won the Presidential race. All other contests went to the Democrats. Of local interest was the referendum concerning the addition of flouride to the water. The vote was 226 to 163 in favor of the addition at the high school election while 60% of voters in the city were in favor of the addition.

Approximately 70% of the student body turned out to vote at school, and 68.8% of the registered voters in the county showed up at the polls.

P.M. PEOPLE

Ring . . . it's 3:20 P.M.! The Sagittarius staff decide to see where the students end up!

After much observation, it was discovered that students were practicing for or participating in the play, band concert, sporting events, etc., while others were busy working in order to have money in their pockets. A few were found sitting on the wall, doing research at the library, or cruising on mopeds and in cars. Others were talking on the phone, working on the year-book, and even studying. Although their activities were varied, all seemed to be busy!

After a long day of classes, Keith Hockenberry and Mike Cronin relax on Main Street.

We wish to recognize these seniors because of their academic achievement. They did maintain a 3.5 or higher grade point average for seven semesters at TCHS. We commend them for their efforts. We hope each of you will strive as they have to be the best you possibly can!

"I CAN'T FIGHT THIS FEELING"

Have you gotten your tux? Have you picked up the flowers? Will you be ready by 6:00? These questions and many more were facing juniors and seniors as Friday's 3:20 bell rang and everyone was rushing for their cars.

Now it's time for pictures! Not only do your parents take pictures, but your date's parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles do also. The list is endless. Then the Emerson photographer has his chance. It's 9:00, and people start arriving at the Armory, the time for the dance, with music provided by Terry Tunks. Due to the extreme heat, many cokes were served; food was provided by Greulich's Catering.

It seemed that the night passed too quickly and it was time to return the tux and hang up the formal for another time.

WE'LL ACHIEVE!

How do you spell relief??? D-I-P-L-O-M-A!!! That's exactly what 149 seniors were saying as the school year came to a close. After getting out one day and one class period early, the classmates met at Legion Field on Friday, May 31, at 7:30 p.m. for the finale—graduation ceremonies.

Speeches were given by Valedictorian Jim George, Salutatorian Barb Ludwig, President Kevin Alvey, and classmate Kris Seibert. In their own words, each encouraged the members of their class to take life one day at a time and live it to the fullest. '85 graduate Connie Peter sang "Out Here On My Own" as her fellow graduates gave her a standing ovation.

In Closing: "The Class of '85 is special;
We're different from the rest.
With our closeness and uniqueness,
We'll achieve our every quest."

ACADEMICS

WELL ROUNDED Program Offered

Whether it be war or democracy, social norms or economic policies, nearly every student experiences some social studies class this year. Introduction to Social Studies, U.S. History, and Government are required classes for freshmen, juniors, and seniors, in that order. Seniors must also take either Economics, Psychology, or Sociology, also. Sociology was revived as a class when thirty people signed up. World History is taken by those who desire more, or "the elite", as Mr. Carver chooses to call them. All together, Social Studies students enjoyed a well-rounded program.

Above: Most Juniors know that U.S. History will require extra studies. By second semester this class felt at ease with Mr. Carver's style.

Center: Nice weather makes it difficult to sit still for a lecture. Mr. Morton's class isn't very interested in starting class.

Right: Studying how concepts are formed as children are Connie Peter, Sharon Sibril, Dawn Paris.

Far Right: Mr. Hintzen lectures to his freshman social studies class.

ENGLISH CLASSES TAKE ON NEW IMAGE

Due to new state requirements in this subject area, the curriculum underwent many changes. At each grade, students studied one semester of literature and one semester of grammar and composition. Students studied in depth American, English, and world authors. The Research class was moved into the library. The English Department definitely updated their image and coordinated their classes.

Left: Meeting in the library was an advantage for students in research class. Mr. Spencer and Micki Cronin gather information for her topic.

SCIENTIFIC FINDS

What do rat guts, Atomic sublevels, and the orbit of Mars have in common? They were all covered in the science department this year.

General Science made its debut this year to assist freshmen in meeting the new requirements of two years of science. Physical Science remained as an alternative for those desiring a bit more than General Science had to offer. Biology instructed sophomores in the breakdowns of the plant and animal kingdoms. Of course, the Advanced Biology class performed their customary dissection of rats again this year. Physics students were surprised by an assignment requiring them to plot the orbit of Mars, while Chemistry and Advanced Chemistry classes were sent journeying into the world of atoms.

Center: As a result of a change in state requirements, all freshmen take science. Jeff Miller noticed a camera in front of him even though others were busy with Mr. Varner's test.

Right: Plotting the orbit of Mars as Kepler once did are Marc Kreig, Mark Herrmann, Brian Black, and Lance Hay.

MATHEMATICAL KNOWLEDGE

Is Required for Most Careers.

Most of the students at TCHS picked up some bit of mathematical knowledge this year, whether it was $2 + 3 = 5$, $\sin^2 x + \cos^2 x = 1$, or that a GOTO statement in the eight place will make your program repeat indefinitely.

The competent mathematics department at TCHS was kept busy teaching General Math, Algebra, Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry and Calculus, as well as Computers I & II. The movement from paper to computers in business is reflected in the number of students enrolling in Mr. Day's computer classes.

FROSH DEVELOP MUSCLES

Imagine the thump of a slam-dunked basketball, the rumble of running feet, or the splash of a person falling into a pool. These are the sounds of Physical Education.

Physical Education doesn't always take place in the gym. It also takes place in the pool and weight room. For the first time, freshman boys spent time in the weight room. Some felt that the weights were interesting but a lot of hard work. In the pool, swimmers did laps and practiced safety measures, such as swimming in clothes.

Students also took one semester of Health and one semester of Alcohol and Narcotics.

Coach George explains to his class the rules for today's relays.

Where are the keys?

Can you remember filling out your class schedule for your sophomore year? "I would really like to have Driver's Ed. first semester, please," you told the guidance counselor. What you were really thinking was, "I WANT DRIVER'S ED, AND IT HAD BETTER BE FIRST SEMESTER!" Those students who are upperclassmen realized that driving was fun, but the class was a little more work than they expected. Classroom films, textbooks, simulation, the driving range, the cars, and the streets of Tell City all combined to lead sophomores to the all-important goal: a driver's license. The students never seem to forget the "close calls" they had while driving with Mr. Katterhenry or Ms. Patterson.

Before actually driving, the class must read the manual and take notes from the lectures.

Left: The state police explained the drinking and driving laws by letting two of the students act out a skit about one Friday night date.

Center Left: While on the range, Ms. Patterson's only contact with the drivers is by radio from the control tower. That's why the drivers aren't allowed to listen to music; they're never sure when she's trying to reach them!

CREATIVITY EXPLODES

Art offers students a chance to be creative and develop their artistic talents. While each student has a chance to study in depth in his area such as pottery, drawing, printing, etc., they also experience a variety of mediums.

Mr. Rogier Donker, a potter, spent one day at TCHS showing the students specific techniques used in working with clay.

Students exhibit work at the end of the year at a Tri Kappa sponsored art contest in competition against Perry Central and Cannelton. Throughout the year their work could be seen in the school display case.

Right: Mrs. Hatfield's class moved to the glass hallway for a lesson drawing perspective while drawing landscape.

WHAT DID YOU SAY?

Did you visit a foreign country this year? If you took a foreign language, you did the next best thing. Four years of study are offered in German, French, and Spanish. Students find that they not only learned the language, but also were submerged in the culture, history, and geography of the country. In addition, German students began to study music from the country.

The first year in a foreign language class is basic introduction to the vocabulary and to the country. In subsequent years, a more intense study begins with the use of dialogues, readings, and compositions. Since many people are taking foreign languages, perhaps more doors of communication will be opened with other countries.

Singing Naturally

The Choral Department went through many changes this year, beginning with the addition of Mr. Brewer as director. During class, the choir began learning to read music. The choir also practiced for various performances and contests. They performed as a single unit, not two separate choirs as in previous years. Second semester they began learning dance steps. Chorus presented the students with a variety of activities, all designed to keep the students' interest and expose their talents to the public.

Learning a new song are chorus members Brenda Baur, Jamie Knable, Patti Smith, and Leisa Poehlein.

NEW FACES CONTINUE WINNING TRADITION

The new director brought about a few changes and one of the biggest surprises for band members was being released from class in time for lunch. Another less nice surprise was the playing test. Ms. Exline made it a regular habit of asking the students to take playing tests over important pieces of music. Ms. Exline continued to find challenging pieces throughout the concert season, thereby keeping band members from becoming bored. The seniors played all through the year, including graduation music. Mr. Brewer shared responsibilities with Ms. Exline, assisting in all areas of the band.

Practicing for the solo and ensemble contest, Connie Howland is grateful for Mary Hess's assistance.

Center Left: Band members can be part of the concert band, marching band, pep band and jazz band. These members know practice makes perfection!

Left: Following Ms. Exline's instructions, the band members received a first place rating while performing as a concert band.

HOME ECONOMICS: A WAY OF LIFE

All of the students passing through Senior Hall were treated to the sight of decorated cakes in the library showcase window. These cakes were done by members of the Foods classes. Though Foods and Clothing are the most obvious of the Home Economics classes, there are other classes offered at TCHS. Family Relations and Child Care are good class choices for those who are planning to marry and raise a family at some time in their life. Family Health covers first aid procedures and CPR. Consumer Education and Family Management advise students on managing their money wisely. Interpersonal Relations deals with getting along well with others, especially on the job. They prepare for a job by actually going through the interviewing process. If a student has a knack for creativity, Housing allows the student to design and furnish a home. Home Economics has something for everyone!

Center: All true cooks wear aprons. Handing them out is Miss Town, as Kathy Cronin and Regina King prepare for a semester of Foods I.

BUSINESS CLASSES ARE THRIVING!!!

This year, many students enrolled in business classes. Perhaps they desired a good office job, a business of their own, or maybe just a good knowledge of typing to assist them in college. Whatever the reason, enrollment in the business classes is on the rise. Students choosing to make their way in the business world took such classes as Secretarial Procedures, Business Law and Accounting. Classes such as Shorthand, Business Math, and General Business were also helpful. Junior and Senior Distributive Education prepared a person for a managerial position. Because computers are becoming more prominent in businesses, it was offered. Intensive Office Lab simulated actual working conditions in a business.

The Business Law class invited Trooper Deer to explain some of the current laws. Although he was excited to talk to the class, he didn't enjoy having his picture made!

HELPING OTHERS IS WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT!

If you're looking for both an interesting class and a rewarding career, then Health Occupations is the thing for you. During their three-period class, the students learned the basics of health care and later worked at the nursing home. The class listened to various guest speakers, such as Cindy Egierski from the Visiting Nurse Association and Mrs. Sharon Williams from the American Red Cross. During the blood drive, the students assisted. They also gave a Christmas party for Head Start.

METAL WORKERS

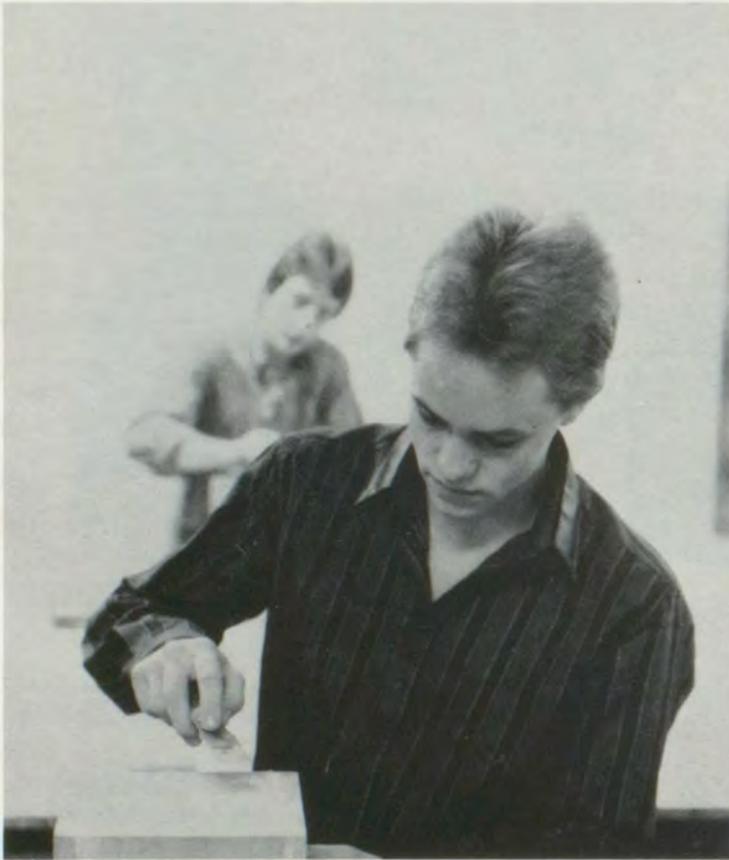

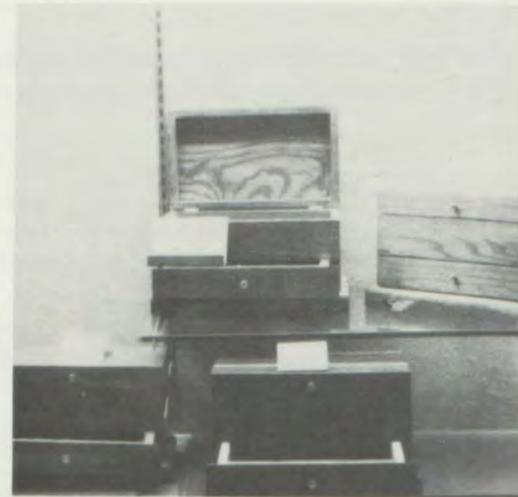

Commercial Industrial Maintenance is a 3-hour class offered to Juniors and Seniors. The first year is spent studying machine shop, and the second year is concerned with metal fabrication. There were several group projects completed this year including assembling a log splitter, a livestock loading chute, engine stands, and cots for the county jail. The students made the parts for these items. In addition, students did individual projects and repaired equipment.

The Finished PROJECT MAKES IT ALL WORTHWHILE

Tables, dressers, cabinets, and cedar chests are just some of the many projects completed in the woods classes. Mr. LeClere taught his students the basics of wood and watched as their skills developed. He advised and assisted as his students worked on their projects.

The first part of a year is spent in the textbook studying theory. Then they move on to lab. There is an emphasis on safety. They are tested on tool identification. General Woods stresses the use of hand tools while advanced students also use power tools.

Putting wood putty on his jewelry box, Keith Zellers plans to give it as a present.

Above Right: Many projects were on display throughout the year in the cafeteria. These jewelry boxes were made in Woods I.

Center Right: Although Mr. LeClere is always available, Keith Zellers and Pat Saalman are able to work independently during class time.

Right: Often giving up his study hall to work in this class, Rick Zuelly is proud of his projects.

STUDENTS GENERATE POWER

Power Mechanics is a one semester course which teaches basic information about sources of generation and transmitting. They study three types of power: mechanical, electrical, and hydraulic. During lab, students have the opportunity to maintain and repair recreational engines such as outboard motors, three-wheelers, and lawnmowers. Because of the large volume of recreational vehicles sold annually, the desire for qualified repairpersons will remain at a high level.

Using a feeler gauge, Matt Brunner checks the piston ring gap.

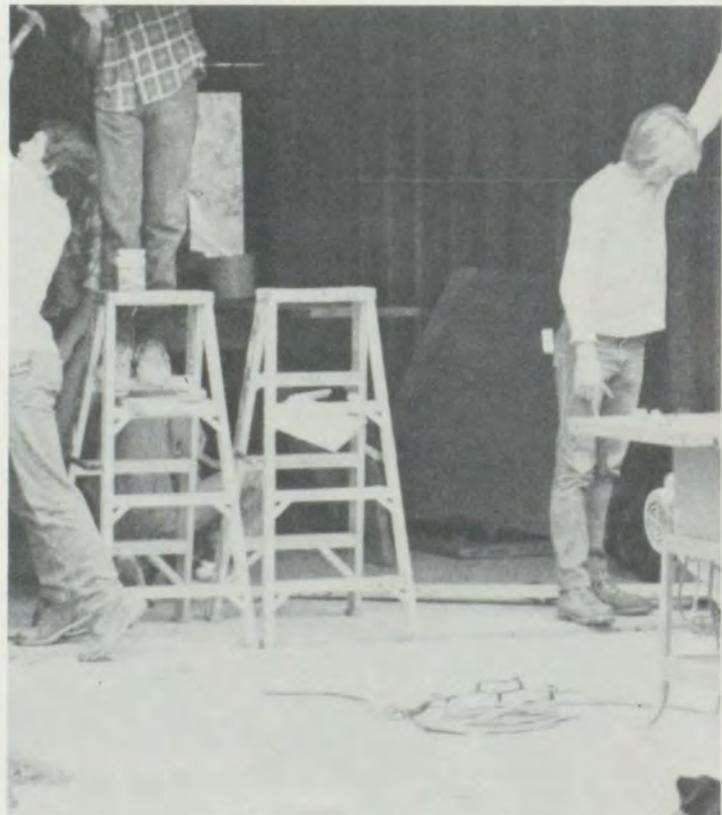

UNDER CONSTRUCTION

It isn't easy to build a house and garage in one year with little experience, but that's exactly what Mr. Murphy and members of his Building Trades class do. They begin with an empty lot and obviously learn to do a lot of different jobs. There are two work crews, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. With a lot of effort, the home is completed and the members of the class are proudly able to show their work off to everyone!

PRINTING

If you are interested in working at a print shop or for a newspaper, Graphic Arts is a valuable class. Besides doing book work, students learned film processing, opaquing, and plate developing. The class was responsible for printing many of the forms used at TCHS, including attendance slips, hall passes, and library passes.

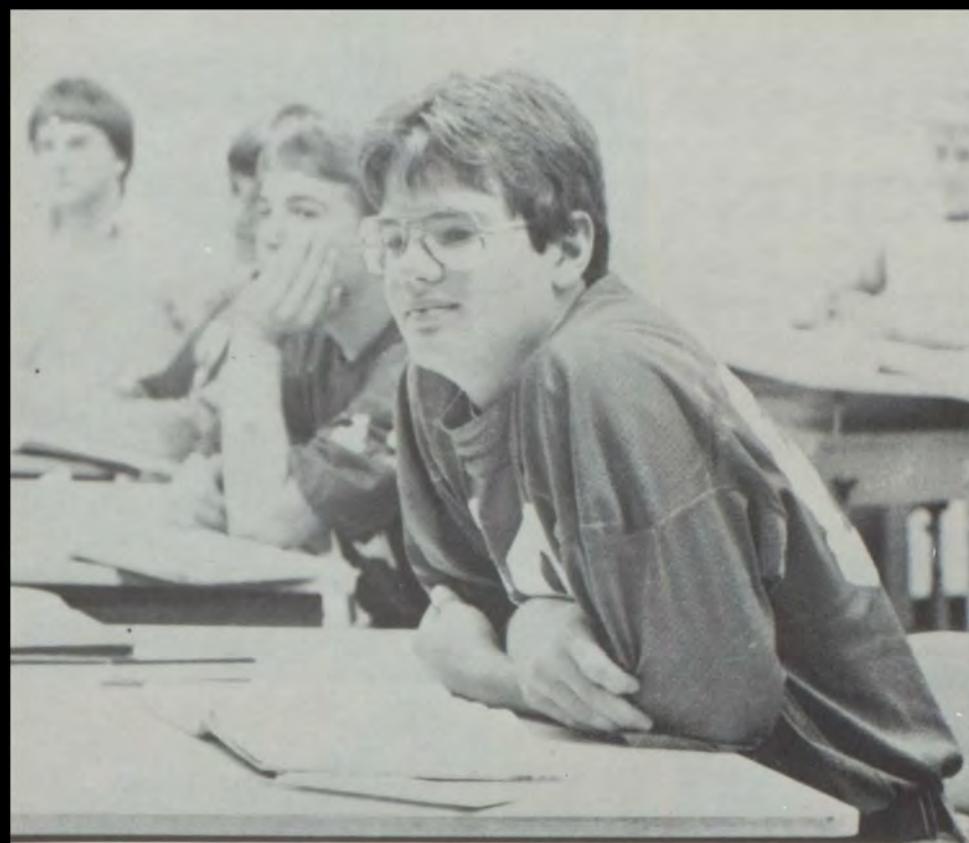

DRAWING

Mechanical Drawing requires an attention to details. First year students develop basic techniques. They draw items, mainly mechanical in nature, to scale, draw three view drawings, and also draw pictorial drawings. In Mechanical Drawing 2, the instruction is devoted to architectural drawings. Students work mainly with house plans.

Right: Lining up the type in Graphic Arts is Scott Benningfield.

METAL CONSTRUCTION

Spending three hours in a classroom may seem long for some, but the welding students benefit. Besides learning from the textbook, they proceed to the lab to practice mig, tig, stick, oxy acetylene welds. They also practice blueprint reading in order to be able to construct their woodstoves, smokers, cookers, and weights.

Drawing layouts, cutting metal properly, and working with pipe are all part of the skills practiced in Metals class. Students know about the different uses and products of metal. Whether milling or working with grinders, students follow standard safety procedures.

STUDENTS REBUILD VOLKSWAGON

Combining book work with lab work, the future mechanics found plenty to occupy their time in their three-hour class. In addition, experts were brought in for guest lectures. Besides working on their own cars, they work on automobiles belonging to the staff. This year's major class project was overhauling a Volkswagen for raffle.

STRIVING FOR NEW HORIZONS

Although the Sagittarius will look the same from the outside, the inside story is quite different. Three staff members attended yearbook camp with sponsor Miss Peter last June to learn the basics and some new techniques. These members then informed the rest of the staff in September. A new "first" for the staff was not working on holidays but working extra hard to make up lost time. With only fourteen members, this was harder than it sounds. Miss Peter's idea of locking everyone in the room until the last page was done was only one of the many tactics she tried to use to meet the deadline.

N.H.S. Re-established

The National Honor Society inducted ten new members in November and eighteen new members in March during the traditional candlelight ceremonies. President Joni Kendall and Vice-President Jeff Fischer headed the NHS. The NHS members were active in the volunteer tutoring program. No award or responsibility conferred by any school exceeds that represented by the NHS.

STUDENT COUNCIL SETS PRECEDENTS

The Student Council was alive and well this year. Although sponsoring many annual activities such as a food drive for the Council of Agencies, the Valentine Carnation Sale, and Records Day teachers breakfast.

The members tried a few new ideas on the student body and received excellent responses. The first "first" was holding the Christmas Dance in the P.E. gym instead of the Armory. The members worked for several days converting the gym into a dance hall and the crowd dancing that evening showed that their hard work was appreciated.

Another new event was the Red Cross Great American Smoke-Out. Members recorded commercials for WTCJ radio and passed out promotional buttons to help this cause. Overall, the Student Council has kept busy keeping traditions and setting new ones for future years.

Girls Perform Service to Benefit Teams

The Matmaids helped to promote and encourage wrestling at TCHS. The girls helped prepare the mats for matches, served as announcers and scorekeepers, accompanied the team to tournaments, and showed enthusiasm and excitement for wrestling. They also sold baked items at home matches to raise money for the annual matmaid-wrestler party which was held this year at Carriage Inn.

Batgirls are also volunteers, but these girls helped at home baseball games. A few of their duties were retrieving foul balls, helping in the dugout with helmets and bats, and helping to earn money at the fifty inning game.

KING'S ISLAND OR BUST!

Although they disagreed on whether to "sprechen Sie Deutsch, say hello with "Bon Jour", or use Sí instead of yes, they all agreed that King's Island was a great place to go at the end of the year. In addition, they collaborated on the annual Christmas party. The Spanish Club raised their money with poster sales; the German Club planned a candy sale and a car wash; the French club decided to let each member pay his own way.

LETTER WINNERS

With many varsity letter winners, the Varsity Club is as large this year. To earn money, the club raffled the game basketball at the first home basketball game. As an honor to the athletes, the Varsity Club is buying conference patches for the football team and girls track team to acknowledge their conference wins.

SNOW?

Although organized in October, the Ski Club didn't actually ski until January when they began their six weeks program that consisted of a one-hour lesson and two and one-half hours of free skiing each Wednesday night. Due to the strange winter weather, the T.C. Ski Team didn't participate in any races but did learn racing techniques in special lessons. Many new members were "rookies" and not familiar with getting up from a fall or turns, but these daring souls soon learned; either by trial and error, or by their instructor in lessons. After a couple of evenings, a few members decided they didn't like the sport, but most did and plan to join again next year.

Front Row: M. Dickman, J. Greenland. Row 2: T. Rogier, T. Mulzer, J. Daum, D. Hebeisen. Row 3: C. Meyer, M. Basinger, N. Conner, L. Ward, Mr. Varner.

FUTURE SCIENTISTS GET INVOLVED

With more members than in the past, the Science Club became active. The members bought and raised mice, planning an experiment with a maze, until a daring mouse escaped in the Advanced Biology room. This ended the experiment; the mice were given to a student as pets. The club also went Christmas caroling and planned a trip to an oil drill site.

CHORUS SINGS TO THE STATE

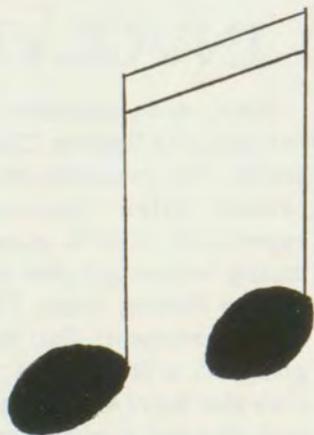

The 1985 Chorus was quite active this year. They performed for both the National Honor Society induction ceremonies, and at Monument Circle in downtown Indianapolis for the Christmas festivities. Several members put forth the extra effort and competed in the Indiana State Solo and Ensemble Contest at Butler University. Visiting Opryland in the rain was the final trip taken by the members. Of course, to be so active requires fundraising. The members pulled together and sold $5,000 worth of cookies.

T.C. MAKES "BIG NOISE"!

Though the band changed directions, the marching season proceeded as always, except for a late start. Impatient with the school board, several seniors, led by Field Commander Eric Bradley, called first the freshmen and then the rest of the band in for practice. Mary Hess supervised the sessions until Ms. Exline and Mr. Brewer were appointed by the board. The band worked their way up to the state contest at the Hoosierdome, placing third in the state for class "C" bands.

The members received seventeen Division I ratings and seven Division II in the solo and ensemble contest. Eric Bradley was Best Field Commander in class at Audubon Marching Classic. David Hebeisen was a member of the Junior High All-Region Band. Eric Bradley, Jamie Voges, and Tina Voges participated in the Hooks All-State Marching Band in the Indianapolis 500 Parade.

The John Philip Sousa Award went to Eric Bradley. The Cindy Scheible Zogg Award went to Jamie and Tina Voges. The most improved Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior members are Barry Boarman, Pat Miller, Jan Stenftenagel, and Joe Mills respectfully. The outstanding members are Freshman Misty Dickman, Sophomore Dawn Schauburger, Junior Julie Reisz, and Seniors Randy Adams and Debbie Howland.

Sizzling days and muggy nights are what all band campers must go through. Running the show are drum major Eric Bradley and B. Exline.

DRAMA CLUB KNOCKS 'EM DEAD!

No one realizes the amount of work put into a play production until they actually participate in one. Late hours, Saturday rehearsals, pages upon pages of lines, unfinished sets, and busy schedules are all integral parts of this process as discovered by this year's cast. The play, Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians", is an intriguing 'whodunnit' murder. Ten people are invited by an unknown host to spend a weekend on Indian Island. The entire play keeps the audience on the edges of their seats as they try to discover who was killing the guests one by one and why. The Drama Club worked many long hours to prepare the play, an effort appreciated by all who attended the production.

SPEECH TEAM MAKES ITS DEBUT AT TCHS!

Much to everyone's delight, a speech team was organized this year and did exceptionally well in competition, not to mention hosting the first T.C.H.S. Speech Invitational. As said by sponsor Mr. Durbin, "It's not the size, but the quality that counts. Making the state finals the first year of competition is an outstanding achievement. Also hosting a major tournament is a credit to the program."

The team participated in four tournaments and then in the IHSA sectionals. Because Randy Adams and Julie Christmas placed first in these sectionals, they advanced to the regionals where they finished second. They then went to the state finals, where they placed tenth in their Duo Interpretation. Nick Conner finished eighth in the sectionals, making him an alternate for the regionals in boys' extemporaneous. Besides the competitions, the team also planned to perform before the T.C. Optimist Club.

CONTEST WINNERS

HOSA's main objective is to become involved in the community. The members worked toward this goal by holding a Halloween party for the nursing home and a Christmas party for Headstart. To raise money for these projects, the members sold candy bars.

regional competition at Vincennes University and the state competition at Indianapolis. Several members won at the regional. The club planned on a canoeing trip at Rocky Point.

The Building Trades Club had several members who did well in competition in such areas as plumbing, carpentry, and masonry. The club members planned a trip on Blue River complete with canoeing, fishing, and camping.

The Auto Mechanics Club raffled a Volkswagen that they had restored to raise money for a trip to the state contest in Indianapolis. The whole purpose of the club is to better oneself in self control, language, and to achieve fulfillment in life.

The Electricity Club's main goal is to advance knowledge and understanding of electrical trades in the job market. The members wired a house built by the building trades class. Three members of the club placed high enough in the regional contest to advance to the state level.

MARKSMEN MAKE PLAYOFFS

Only losing 3 games out of the season with a 5-point total, Tell City Marksmen had one of their most remarkable seasons. The Marksmen players won the cluster to advance to the play-offs with a remarkable record of 4 wins, 0 losses, but were defeated in sectional to Boonville 14 to 13. Some of the more exciting games of the season have been our victories over our number one rivals Jasper, Bosse, and Memorial. Most improved players were Dan Quick, Bart Mulzer, and Dave Schank. Voted most valuable player by teammates was Jim George. According to Coach George, the outlook for next season with 11 who have had a lot of experience, next season should prove to be a good situation.

RESERVES EXCEL

Beginning their season with an exhilarating overtime victory against Jasper, the Marksmen followed with yet another victory over Jasper and Vincennes. Their hopes for a perfect season were ended by the Boonville Pioneers.

Finishing with a 3-1 season, Coach Morton felt that all fourteen players contributed to the success of the team. Morton added that a number of the reserve team players will make a valuable addition to the 1985 varsity squad.

SIZE DOESN'T SCARE FROSH

The Frosh pulled off a winning season by ending with a record of 5-3. Offensively Kevin Barket led the Marksmen, while defensively Greg Kincaid took charge. Matt Hudson, an offensive guard and defensive linebacker, was the most improved of '84. Looking over the season, the players will not likely forget the victory over Davies County. The opponents were massive, but the mighty freshmen out-hit them the entire night! Coaches Barnett and Duncan are looking forward to another winning season in 1985!

The Key Word is Success!

By the end of the season the Tennis team finished with a record of 15-5 and a conference record of 5-2 placing them third in conference.

The most exciting match of the year? It was the sectional finals against "Dubois." "They had a really good team, but we finally beat them 3-2," stated Coach Harpenau.

In 1985 the team loses 5 good seniors, but the reserve team with a record of 4-4 should be able to fill the gap.

LADIES TAKE SECTIONAL

The Lady Marksmen earned the right to play in the regional by defeating Cannelton 2-1 and then Perry Central 2-0 in championship's sectional play. They eventually lost the regional to state finalists, the Boonville Pioneers.

The varsity record was 9-13 with the team peaking at sectional time. Coach S. Burton added that the entire Lady Marksmen team will be back in full force next year. Therefore, she is extremely optimistic. Julie Howard was selected MVP. Unfortunately, Coach D. Burton had no comments concerning the JV team.

DETERMINATION SPARKS RUNNERS!!

Although small in numbers, the cross country team finished with a record of 40-22. They placed second in the Big 8 Conference Meet.

Kevin Gramelspacher led the way qualifying for the regionals by finishing 5th at the sectional. Here his season ended as he placed seventh. In addition to Gramelspacher, Kevin Morge and Brian Busse will be back to lead the '85 team to victory.

Front Row: B. Busse, J. Fischer, Coach Busse. Row 2: G. Ballman, M. Finley, K. Gramelspacher, K. Morge.

SWIMMERS BUILD STRENGTH

This season's most valuable swimmers were Karen Ludwig and freshman Sherri Luecke. Team captain for the team was Michelle Mills. Most improved swimmers were Michaeline Borders and Kim Malone.

The team's season record was nine wins, four losses and one tie. The team earned a respectable third in sectional but unfortunately had no state qualifiers. The team's most exciting meet was the triangular meet with Heritage Hills, Mt. Vernon, and Tell City.

The outlook for next year's Girls Swim Team looks very good according to Coach Page since there are many new prospects coming up, and the team will only be losing one senior.

Above: Sectional creates a special atmosphere and brings out the best of the team.

Above Right: Team stretching is an important portion of Tell City's pre-meet warm-up. S. Rodgers, M. Wilbur, K. Malone, S. Luecke, M. Borders, M. Mills, D. Krygilk, J. Hoch, and K. Sweet show a few of the many stretches they do.

TEAM SEEKS NEW MEMBERS FOR DEPTH

Most valuable swimmer for the Boys Swim Team this year was Jeremy Becker, a freshman. Chosen captain of the team was Eric Bradley. The most improved swimmer was Brian Hammack. Coach Page felt that the team had talent but was unable to compete effectively due to lack of depth. Due to this problem the season record was one win, eight losses. The most exciting meet was the sectional.

MARKSMEN BUILD!!!

This season—a season of many changes—started off on a rocky road. Coach Burton brought with him many new ideas and it took time for everyone to adjust. Despite the various students who elected not to play, a dedicated twelve finished the season. Not having had much playing time together they weren't familiar with each others' moves. They ended the season 6-15. Greg Arnold was the most improved player and Scott Schmitt was named most valuable player. Having looked upon this as a building season, Coach Burton feels next year's outlook is excellent.

RESERVE PLAGUED WITH PROBLEMS

The Reserve team had many problems due to the constant changing of members. They finished with a record of 1-19.

Preconditioning began with sprints, dive drills, and scrimmage.

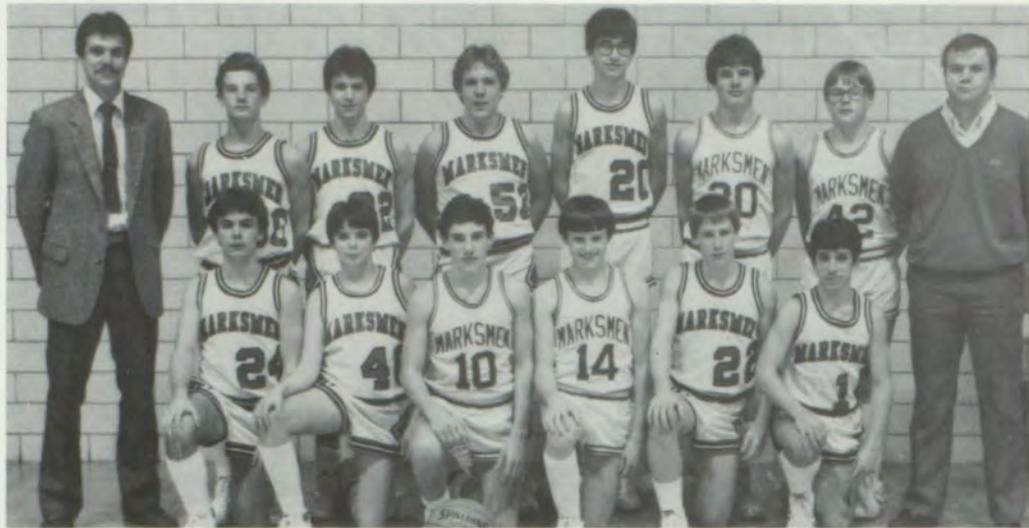

Aerobics was a new experience for the team as Mrs. Duncan put them through their paces. The team practiced daily for two hours working on plays, shooting form, and passing.

ON THE MOVE!

A new coach arrives at Tell City. This is Coach Duncan. He assists Coach Chinn with the freshman team. The team lost to Jasper in the first round of the Big 8. But Coaches Duncan and Chinn said the team really worked and played hard. The entire team improved throughout the season and several changed teams. The highlight of the year was the exciting game against Perry Central when the team was down five with 2:22 to play. They ended up winning on a last second shot by Kevin Barket in overtime.

The season ended with a record of 4-9.

Center: Going for an easy bucket is Chris Ballis.

Just for Fun!

Intramurals took on a new look as coed volleyball was tried for the first time. Several persons were interested, but unfortunately due to all of the other available activities not enough teams turned out to allow it to continue. After three times intramurals disbanded.

The boys immediately organized teams and began playing basketball. The time was switched so that games were played on school nights. Steve Herrmann led the players with an average of 19.4 points per game. Jeff Hawkins, Marc Beller, Marc Kreig, Mike Cronin, Rick Wilgus, Mark Rothgerber, and Scott Benningfield were members of the winning team with a record of 8-0.

The girls, under the guidance of Chris Page, began a 6 weeks aerobic exercise program. Meeting twice a week for an hour, they sweated and groaned to such tapes as Jane Fonda's Prime Time.

Bringing the ball down court is intramural member Ronnie Crawford.

Season highlight for the Marksmen wrestling team was winning the Washington Tourney. The Marksmen team also placed third in the conference and were runner-up in the sectional. Their season ended with a 11-4 record in dual meets. Most valuable participant honors went to Tim Davis, Dave Schank, and Denny Barket. Most improved for the season were Mark Ramsey, Tim Davis, and Chris Kincaid. Next year's team will lose four seniors of the 19-member team, but a number of the underclassmen have bright futures in wrestling. With nine starters returning and eight of them seniors, we should have a good year.

COACH ENDS CAREER

Julie Howard led the Marksmen during the 1984-85 season. She broke the TCHS career points by 42 points with one season of play left. So far she has pumped in 496 points. Kim Batie had the best free throw percentage with 56.8%. Debbie Tsantis had the best field goal percentage. The 7-10 season ended Coach Patterson's coaching career. She feels next year will be a good one for the new coach because the starters will be returning.

Coach Patterson's eleven year coaching record produced a 101-84 record. This included two sectional and one regional championships.

HOOP TALK

The reserve team spent many hours conditioning and practicing for their season and it paid off! Leading the team was Janice Meunier, setting the school record with 158 points. Lorna Foster also set a new school record with 80 rebounds. Connie Howland had the highest free throw percentage.

Their season ended with a record of 6-10. The highlight was the victory over Reitz, a run-and-gun team. This was the first time the Marksmen have beaten them.

SWINGING FOR SUCCESS

The 1985 Girls Tennis Team was the best in a number of years according to coach Harpenau during the Sports Banquet. The girls tennis record was 9-5, an improvement over last year's record of 6-9. In number one position for team play in singles was Janet Lambert, number two, Danielle Dauby and number three, Joni Kendall. Number one in doubles was Jody Philipps and Kassi Sabelhaus; number two was Micki Cronin and Joyce Greenland. Most valuable player was Janet Lambert and most improved was Micki Cronin.

INDIVIDUAL SUCCESS MAKES A WINNING SEASON

The Tell City Golf Team ended their season with a 17-11 record and a 5th place conference record. Highlights for the golf team was the first Tell City High School Invitational which was a great success. The season went much better than was anticipated according to Guy Clark and he is looking forward to next year with optimism. Most Valuable Player Award went to all ten men on the team that spent much time on their games and showed the improvement.

MARKSMEN TAKE THE FIELD

The 1985 Boys' Baseball Team spent much time this season concentrating on building strength and stamina with new programs in weight lifting and aerobics. These new programs have added speed and quickness to the overall performance of the team.

Top performers on the varsity team in hitting were Dave Schank, Bob Dixon, Bart Mulzer, and Scott Benningfield. Top performers in fielding were Dave Schank, Bob Dixon, and Rick Wilgus. Players with top on base averages were Dave Schank, Bob Dixon, and Bart Mulzer. Top ERA averages were Rick Wilgus, Dave Schank, and Marc Beller. Top performers on the reserve team were Greg Kincaid, Kevin Barket, Stacie Kratzer, and Chris Alvey.

Season highlight for the team was the 50 inning ballgame to raise funds in which they raised over $1,000.

LADIES STRUGGLE THROUGH SEASON

Although the 1985 girls' track season was a difficult one, several girls qualified for sectional and set school records. Qualifying for sectional were Sherri Luecke and Connie Howland in the 1600 meter run, and Kim Batie in shot put and discus. Debbie Tsantis placed in the high jump and Sally Malone placed in the 800 meter run.

Voted Most Valuable Runner, Connie Howland remained undefeated in outdoor season. Voted Most Valuable in Field Events was Kim Batie.

This 1985 season was a time for school records to be broken. Connie Howland now holds the record in the 1600 meter run, Sally Malone in the 800 meter run, and Debbie Tsantis in the high jump.

With sixteen returning runners next year, Coach Busse feels it will be a promising season.

FEW NUMBERS HURT

The 1985 season for the Boys Track Team was a little rocky with only twelve individuals on the team and at least two or three injuries that hurt each meet. Those who qualified for sectional were Kevin Morge and Kevin Gramelspacher in the 3200 meter run, Rick Arnold 800 meter run, Cecil Schirtzinger in pole vault, Dan Quick and Craig George in discus and shot put, Jeff Fischer in 110 meter run, and Jeff Hawkins in the 100 and 200 meter dash. Jeff Hawkins set the school record in the 100 meter dash. Jeff Hawkins was also voted most valuable runner, and Craig George was voted most valuable in field events. Although this was a disappointing season, Coach Busse is quoted as saying, "If the team sticks together, they will have an improved season next year."

SQUADS STRUGGLE TO KEEP MORALE HIGH

The cheering season got off to a great start in the summer with practices beginning in June. Cheerleading camp was a lot of hard work with some fun mixed in. They all got a lot closer and learned what being a cheerleader was all about. Football season was the ultimate. The enthusiasm of the team and fans was too incredible for words. The best part of football season was beating Memorial and the parade they had after the game. Basketball season started on a good note when the Marksmen beat Perry Central. They enjoyed the chance to support the team and were proud to represent them.

They went skiing at Paoli and did other crazy things which brought them much closer as a squad.

Although there were many disagreements between the members of the squad and others involved in cheerleading, the J.V. Squad was always prepared! Camp was a unique experience; the squad was not aware of the amount of work required for a grade A squad!

Football season was exciting because they joined the varsity in leading yells at the games. Here they used several cheers they had learned at camp. Basketball season required enthusiasm by the squad despite a losing season. They appreciated the many compliments they received for their performances at the sidelines.

Looking back, they are proud of the closeness that grew out of their experiences. The freshman cheerleading squad found out that cheerleading can be a trying and rewarding time. They learned that it takes hard work and cooperation. Having learned many new movements, they had a lot of fun together. Kari Kleaving felt they got along fine!

SUPERIOR SENIORS

The Class of 1985 left their mark upon TCHS by showing their school spirit and by decorating the halls before sectional. Anyone who walked down senior hall before 7:45 will never forget playing "leap frog" over outstretched senior legs. TCHS has also left its mark upon the seniors, too. Each of them will carry with them fond memories of the Tell City Marksmen.

JUNIORS BUCKLE DOWN

One hundred forty-three Juniors entered the hallowed halls of Tell City High School for the third time. Buckling down and studying hard seemed like the thing to do for some Juniors with the PSAT and the SAT coming up, while others experienced on the job training in the Vocational Department. The tradition of planning the prom and selling magazines came on this class just like all the ones before them.

SOPHOMORES SURVIVE!

The Sophomores of '85 seemed to be relieved that they were not looked down on by the upper classmen. This year was a year of change as most sophomores earned their licenses and found new freedom. Tradition held true to this class as it had before in sophomores—the ordering and fitting of class rings and the receiving of their class jackets.

By the end of the year the sophomores had started taking a serious look at their futures.

FRESHMEN INVADE TCHS!!!

The Freshman class of 1985 were excited, nervous, and a little scared like most incoming classes. This class shocked the upperclassmen and faculty by wearing those bright colors and short skirts. These "greenies," affectionately called by the upperclassmen, displayed spirit by participating in the pep sessions.

THE TRANSITION FROM AN ADOLESCENT TO AN ADULT.

TRAN - SI - TION ----- A movement, development or evolution from one form, stage or style to another.

As we evolve and develop, we find ourselves experiencing new experiences, altering our attitudes and opening our opinions. Our relationship to our environment is undergoing many changes. In general, we have to rethink the way we live - transition.

During this transitional process some of us will take on totally new characteristics while others will change more subtly. Some of us will resist any change at all.

Continuing our education will help us to plan and implement life strategies that will position us to take advantage of the changes that are taking place today and tomorrow. Whether it be on-the-job training or college, continuing your education will make your transition easier.

As the last day of school ended and the sun went down in Tell City, new horizons began. TCHS students made plans for their long awaited summer vacations and contemplated the next year's task of becoming a sophomore, junior, or senior. Once graduation exercises were completed, the 1985 alumni recounted their high school days and began preparing themselves for the role of adult. Some sought jobs and others went on to further their education through college and vocational schooling. All students matured and will continue to mature. As most adults tell us, the memories of our high school years will hopefully be of the best times of our lives.
